INTRODUCTION

Tennessee Code Annotated section 17-4-101 charges the Judicial Nominating Commission with assisting the Governor and the People of Tennessee in finding and appointing the best qualified candidates for judicial offices in this State. Please consider the Commission's responsibility in answering the questions in this application questionnaire. For example, when a question asks you to "describe" certain things, please provide a description that contains relevant information about the subject of the question, and, especially, that contains detailed information that demonstrates that you are qualified for the judicial office you seek. In order to properly evaluate your application, the Commission needs information about the range of your experience, the depth and breadth of your legal knowledge, and your personal traits such as integrity, fairness, and work habits.

This document is available in word processing format from the Administrative Office of the Courts (telephone 800.448.7970 or 615.741.2687; website <http://www.tncourts.gov>). The Commission requests that applicants obtain the word processing form and respond directly on the form. Please respond in the box provided below each question. (The box will expand as you type in the word processing document.) Please read the separate instruction sheet prior to completing this document. Please submit the completed form to the Administrative Office of the Courts in paper format (with ink signature) and electronic format (either as an image or a word processing file and with electronic or scanned signature). Please submit fourteen (14) paper copies to the Administrative Office of the Courts. Please e-mail a digital copy to debra.hayes@tncourts.gov.

THIS APPLICATION IS OPEN TO PUBLIC INSPECTION AFTER YOU SUBMIT IT.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND AND WORK EXPERIENCE

1. State your present employment.

I am self-employed as a solo practitioner at The Faulk Law Office, 112 East Main Blvd., Church Hill, TN 37642, practicing in Church Hill just over 30 years now. Finally, I also manage a commercial real estate development.

2. State the year you were licensed to practice law in Tennessee and give your Tennessee Board of Professional Responsibility number.

BPR No. 007078

3. List all states in which you have been licensed to practice law and include your bar number or identifying number for each state of admission. Indicate the date of licensure and whether the license is currently active. If not active, explain.

Tennessee

BPR No. 007078

April 26, 1980

Active

4. Have you ever been denied admission to, suspended or placed on inactive status by the Bar of any State? If so, explain. (This applies even if the denial was temporary).

No.

5. List your professional or business employment/experience since the completion of your legal education. Also include here a description of any occupation, business, or profession other than the practice of law in which you have ever been engaged (excluding military service, which is covered by a separate question).

The Faulk Law Office

1982-present

My current practice focuses on alcohol-related injury law – both prosecuting and preventing dram shop cases. I handle injury cases of all types, probate estates, prepare advance directive packages, and prepare documents such as deeds, leases and contracts.

Hawkins County Land Company LLC – Manager 2001 - present
I manage a limited liability company that leases commercial real estate.

Campaign manager, Committee to Elect a Bi-partisan Supreme Court 1982
In 1982 I served the three Republican nominees for the State Supreme Court, Tom Hull, Tom Avery, and John Waters as their statewide campaign manager.

Weintraub DeHart 1979-1982
Memphis, TN

Associate attorney; law clerk. Practiced labor-management relations law on behalf of employers including but not limited to NLRB litigation, Fair Labor Standards Act litigation, labor contract dispute arbitration; and labor contract negotiations throughout the eastern United States.

Admitted: United States Supreme Court
Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals
All U. S. District Courts of Tennessee

6. If you have not been employed continuously since completion of your legal education, describe what you did during periods of unemployment in excess of six months.

Not applicable.

7. Describe the nature of your present law practice, listing the major areas of law in which you practice and the percentage each constitutes of your total practice.

Bodily Injury & property damage – 50%
Trust & Estates/Probate/Will – 35%
Workers Compensation – 15%
See also answer to No. 5 above and No. 8 below.

8. Describe generally your experience (over your entire time as a licensed attorney) in trial courts, appellate courts, administrative bodies, legislative or regulatory bodies, other forums, and/or transactional matters. In making your description, include information about the types of matters in which you have represented clients (e.g., information about whether you have handled criminal matters, civil matters, transactional matters, regulatory matters, etc.) and your own personal involvement and activities in the matters where you have been involved. In responding to this question, please be guided by the fact that in order to properly evaluate your application, the Commission needs information about your range of experience, your own personal work and work habits, and your work background, as your legal experience is a very important component of the evaluation required of the Commission. Please provide detailed information that will allow the Commission to evaluate your qualification for the judicial office for which you have applied. The failure to provide detailed information, especially in this question, will hamper the evaluation of your application. Also separately describe any matters of special note in trial courts, appellate courts, and administrative bodies.

After one year of law school full-time, I changed over to the law school night program so I could work as Chancellor Robert Hoffmann's courtroom clerk in Shelby County. I was in court to administer oaths, mark exhibits and assist the Chancellor almost every day of court for two years. As a Deputy Clerk & Master, I watched daily the myriad of cases tried in Chancery Court including injunction proceedings in labor disputes. High profile labor disputes including the municipal strikes that darkened Memphis in the late 1970s were heard by Chancellor Hoffmann. I found these cases most intriguing. That interest was, in part, one of the reasons I received MSU School of Law's Kirby Bowling Labor Law Award.

Leaving the Clerk & Master's office in my last semester of law school, I went to work as a fulltime law clerk and then associate attorney with Weintraub & DeHart, a management labor law firm in Memphis. In two years at that firm I tried arbitrations, unfair labor practice charges before the National Labor Relations Board, Fair Labor Standards Act cases in federal courts, and injunction proceedings in both Chancery Courts around Tennessee and in federal courts. I represented employers in union election campaigns before the National Labor Relations Board. I also negotiated collective bargaining agreements on behalf of employers. I argued in the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals during this employment.

My wife and I started our family in 1980. All the travel with Weintraub & DeHart did not fit with our desires in rearing a family so I returned to my native Hawkins County to start a general practice in September, 1982, taking practically any case that came through the door.

I handled delinquency, dependent/neglect, custody, child support, paternity and practically any conceivable case within the jurisdiction of Juvenile Court primarily in Hawkins and Sullivan County. By 1986, I was asked by Hawkins County Juvenile Court Judge G. Reese Gibson to serve as his Juvenile Court Referee. Over the next three years I heard dozens of juvenile court cases as Referee in Hawkins County and was called upon by other Juvenile Judges to sit as Referee pro tem.

My General Sessions Court practice started in the days before the present-day statewide Public Defender system was established. In Hawkins County, the dozen attorneys who handled criminal cases each had his "day-in-the-barrel" providing a defense to all defendants determined indigent by the Judge. Every twelve weeks, I would represent between ten and thirty defendants on misdemeanor criminal charges and would represent another three to five defendants in preliminary hearings. I tried hundreds of these cases over a four-year period. The Criminal Court Judge normally appointed the attorney who had handled the preliminary hearing to defend those bound over to the Grand Jury. In this same time period, I tried criminal court cases before juries dozens of times. I tried everything from destruction of public property to murder cases. I was also appointed to defend indigents a few times in federal court criminal matters. Most of my appellate court practice dealt with appeal of criminal convictions.

My General Sessions Court civil experience runs the gamut of cases within its jurisdiction. I've tried collections, forcible ejection & detainer, negligence, breach of contract, possessory hearing, garnishment, writ of detinue, attachment & replevy, trespass and defamation cases. The number of these cases I've tried would be in the hundreds.

In the Circuit and Chancery Courts I have tried most all types of cases in counties across the State. I have had jury trials in Carroll, Davidson, Putnam, Greene, Hancock, Hawkins, Hamblen, Sullivan and Washington Counties. The number of jury cases I've tried, mostly tort cases, is in the dozens. My jury trials include wrongful discharge, product liability and consumer fraud cases.

I did domestic relations work in these courts in multiple counties including divorce, custody, child support, paternity, name change, orders of protection and adoption. These cases number in the dozens. I have tried trespass, nuisance and boundary line disputes. The number of workers compensation cases I have handled is in the dozens.

I have continued an active probate practice over the years handling approximately 300 estates and all the different proceedings that accompanying them. I have tried will contests, declaratory judgments to interpret wills, contested appointment of personal representative, contested claims against estates and contested conservatorships. The number of Last Will & Testaments, Powers of Attorney, Advance Care Plans, Appointments of Health Care Agents and so forth I have prepared is in the hundreds.

My trial practice also included U. S. District Courts including a Labor Management Relations Act case and tort cases with diversity of citizenship. I practiced in the early 1990s in the U. S. Bankruptcy Court handling both consumer and creditor cases. In the last few years I have appeared in Bankruptcy Court to try contested matters incidental to bankruptcy proceedings. The number of bankruptcy cases I handled is in the dozens.

Throughout my 30 plus years of practice in Church Hill, I have done some transactional work. I still do deeds, leases, and contracts. I conducted a few real estate closings in my early years. After the demise of the Butcher banks in 1982 I was hired by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to do title searches and collections work over several northeast Tennessee counties.

In the late 1980s, I served on the Tennessee Human Rights Commission which heard some appeals.

Beginning in 1988 I developed a municipal practice and served as city attorney for two towns. In the process of representing the two, I tried an annexation case and a few condemnation cases. I tried writs of certiorari, mandamus and declaratory judgment cases. I made appearances before administrative agencies such as the Wastewater Financing Board. Transactional work was aplenty when the Town of Mt. Carmel installed a sewer system requiring hundreds of easements and the title work needed to obtain them. For a period of months, I also served as interim City Judge for the Town of Mt. Carmel.

Other administrative agencies before which I have appeared include the Department of Employment Security Board of Review, Department of Labor & Workforce Development Benefit Review Conference, Board of Pardons & Paroles, Board of Law Examiners, U. S. Department of Justice Drug Enforcement Administration, Medicare Administration and Pre-Hospital Care Regulatory Board.

In 1996 I was hired on my first dram shop case. Since that time a large portion of my practice has involved prosecuting dram shop cases and helping businesses with an alcoholic beverage service avoid over-serving customers or serving underage customers.

9. Also separately describe any matters of special note in trial courts, appellate courts, and administrative bodies.

Tennessee Supreme Court Case of first impression – Curde v. Tri-Cities Bank, 826 S. W. 2d 911 (Tenn. 1992) regarding applicability of Electronic Funds Transfer Act, 15 U. S. C. §1693 et seq.

10. If you have served as a mediator, an arbitrator or a judicial officer, describe your experience (including dates and details of the position, the courts or agencies involved, whether elected or appointed, and a description of your duties). Include here detailed description(s) of any noteworthy cases over which you presided or which you heard as a judge, mediator or arbitrator. Please state, as to each case: (1) the date or period of the proceedings; (2) the name of the court or agency; (3) a summary of the substance of each case; and (4) a statement of the significance of the case.

I was certified as a Rule 31 mediator in 2011 but have not yet served as a mediator.

11. Describe generally any experience you have of serving in a fiduciary capacity such as guardian ad litem, conservator, or trustee other than as a lawyer representing clients.

In the early years of my practice in Hawkins County, I was appointed guardian ad litem in a few conservatorship cases and juvenile court cases.

12. Describe any other legal experience, not stated above, that you would like to bring to the attention of the Commission.

Not applicable.

13. List all prior occasions on which you have submitted an application for judgeship to the Judicial Nominating Commission or any predecessor commission or body. Include the specific position applied for, the date of the meeting at which the body considered your application, and whether or not the body submitted your name to the Governor as a nominee.

I applied for the vacancy on The Eastern Section of the Tennessee Court of Appeals, was interviewed by the Judicial Nominating Commission on November 16, 2012, and was submitted as one of the three nominees to Governor Haslam. I applied for the vacancy for Circuit Court, Third Judicial District on March 8th, 2013, was interviewed by the Judicial Nominating Committee on April 11th, 2013, and was submitted as one of three nominees to Governor Haslam. No decision has been announced on the Circuit Court vacancy.

EDUCATION

See attached. Both examples are exclusively my own personal effort.

ESSAYS/PERSONAL STATEMENTS

35. What are your reasons for seeking this position? (150 words or less)

Service to people has taken many forms in my career. In my 32 years of practice I have been a litigator at every level of trial practice. The breadth of my trial practice is comprehensive.

I have been called on many times to sit as a trial judge. My Masters Degree in public administration has served me well as a municipal attorney and in the State Senate. My service on the State & Local Government Committee and the Judiciary Committee helped mold me into the lawyer I am today.

I feel the body of work I've done over my whole adult life has pointed me toward service as a Judge.

36. State any achievements or activities in which you have been involved which demonstrate your commitment to equal justice under the law; include here a discussion of your pro bono service throughout your time as a licensed attorney. (150 words or less)

My service as a former member of the Board of Directors for Legal Services of Upper East Tennessee, Inc. is a prime indicator of my commitment to pro bono service. Not only did I accept Legal Services referrals on a low-fee basis, I also accepted Legal Service referrals occasionally charging no fee. In addition to those referrals, my practice has included dozens and hundreds of cases where I wrote off, waived or reduced fees to help those who literally could not afford legal services. I've been blessed beyond description by those folks whom I helped in this way. They have been the source of numerous referrals. They've shown their gratitude with cakes and pies, quilts, paintings, and many, many other expressions.

37. Describe the judgeship you seek (i.e. geographic area, types of cases, number of judges, etc. and explain how your selection would impact the court. (150 words or less)

The Court of Criminal Appeals – Eastern Section hears a diversity of criminal cases falling within its jurisdiction. The District includes the counties in the Eastern Section of the State. My selection as Judge would allow the Court to continue without interruption in that I've handled hundreds of criminal cases and appeals in this court.

38. Describe your participation in community services or organizations, and what community involvement you intend to have if you are appointed judge? (250 words or less)

“Get a Hit: Stay Fit” is a childhood obesity initiative I founded in 2007. It is designed to encourage exercise amongst elementary school children by incentivizing participation in organized summer sports programs. I'd certainly like to continue its promotion.

39. Describe life experiences, personal involvements, or talents that you have that you feel will be of assistance to the Commission in evaluating and understanding your candidacy for this judicial position. (250 words or less)

My father didn't finish the 8th grade. My mother was the first of her family to ever finish high school. I am the first of my family to finish college. The Scots-Irish blood that flows through my veins and all they taught me make me what I am today. As an 8th generation Hawkins Countian, growing up on a farm in eastern Hawkins County, I was taught to work harder because there's always somebody smarter, take personal responsibility because it may really be your fault, know what you believe and why, put back more than you take, dare to stick your neck out, be kind to widows, orphans and dogs, and never forget there is a reason God gave you two ears and only one mouth. They didn't just teach them; both my parents lived these principles.

These principles guide me every day and seem principles worth following as a Judge.

I love to write. In addition to the dramshop law blog I author, I have penned numerous articles for more than a dozen wildlife magazines and web sites. All my published outdoor articles along with anecdotes, photographs, recipes, and more about my love for all things outdoors can be read at Strum Island Journal (www.strumisland.blogspot.com).

40. Will you uphold the law even if you disagree with the substance of the law (e.g., statute or rule) at issue? Give an example from your experience as a licensed attorney that supports your response to this question. (250 words or less)

As one of the dwindling number of attorneys in the General Assembly who has a trial practice, I felt placing caps on damages in injury cases was overkill and that I should speak up to warn against passing a bad law. I believe the imposition of caps on damages depreciates the value and good work done by jurors. I authored an Op-Ed piece which ran in several of the daily newspapers of the state. (See <http://www.knoxnews.com/news/2011/apr/23/tort-reform-runs-counter-to-conservatism/>).

Now that caps-on-damages is the law, I have no trouble applying the law even though I think capping damages was an unnecessarily burdensome means of tort reform.
