To The Following Parties:

Court Clerk, Twentieth Judicial District.
The TENN. Supreme Court, GOVERNOR
Phil Bredesen; ATTORNEY General Paul
Summers; District Attorney TERRY Johnson;
Assistant District Attorney Tom Thurman

Please be advised, that on 3.18.03, atty. Jeff DeVasher, AN atty. David Baker, commenced a legal dialogue with me at Brushy Correctional Facility, to encourage me to pursue my post-conviction appeals in the Captain D's case No. 97-C-183 in which I adamantly stated no...
Mr. Jeff DeVasher, and Mr. David Baker informed me, that both attorneys will petition: The TENN. Supreme Court, and Governor Phil Bredesen; to declare me demented, after I conveyed the following, during our three (3) hour discourse.
MR. DeVasher, and MR. Baker intend to launch an] character assassination attack against me.

I revealed to David Baker, and Jeff DeVashe that since 1985, most every person who has ANY type of association or contact with me, usually first has to go through the military gov't. David inquired how did the military gov't enter into my life. I explained that IN 1985, I served a five (5) year INCARCERATED sentence, from 1985, to JAN. 17, 1990, at Ellis II Correctional Institution Huntsville, Texas. For a Felony Robbery I participated in, with Mr. Stewart L. Cook, T.D.C. # 341999. Mr. Baker desisted me, and asked me to disclose how I met Mr. Stewart Cook. I elucidated that in 1971, I met Mr. Stewart Cook in my eighth grade SCIENCE class, and that we lived in a mile CIRCUMFERENCE of the middle school, and [] one another's home, in an upper bourgeoisie residential community. From 1971 to 1982 Mr. Cook and I maintained an amicable relationship that functioned sporadically. I depicted Mr. Cook as a Texas typical red-neck, type A, if one disrespects him, tattoos, Whiskey (whisky) guzzler, lives big, insolvent, in the red, very nice most of the time, married, interden church goer, an daredevil, who is educated. It is clarified that Mr. Cook and I basically congregated on the weekends in our adolescent high school.

years, an after high school from time to time, to frequent Texas honky-tonks - country night clubs, such as Sticky Galleys, and Johnny Lee's live music clubs. The two (2) of us made a conglomerate - synergy to attract girls at night clubs, an entertain them. I explained that Mr. Cook is an accomplished auto mechanic, an owned a hot rod street race car and adventure driving through the streets of Houston. I revealed that Mr. Cook is also a land surveyor and he introduced me to his boss, Charles A. McFainly, who hired me to survey property during the summer of 1979. From 1980 to 1982 Mr. Cook and I and our wives, dined out in Houston restaurants occasionally. I stated Mr. Cook and I are as different as night and day in life-styles, some personalities, and thinking. Mr. JEFF DeVasher, Esq., asked me to describe how Mr. Cook would portray me. I stated to Mr. DeVasher, that in 1997, Mr. Cook stated in an interview to Nashville BANNER Newspaper reporter Patricia Lynn Kimbro; that I'm meticulous about my home, vehicles, an all I own, that I've always been "clean strong", that I'm a neat freak. I stated that DANNY Tackett (Shoney Co-Worker Cook in 1997) also gave an interview to Patricia Lynn Kimbro in 1997, stating I did not drink, smoke, use any type of drugs, or have any bad habits. I said to MR. DeVasher that I am a meticulous, concerning my property, I elect to live clean, neat, methodical, having no tattoos or body piercing, I don't smoke, drink, or engage in ANY type of activity in drug use. That there are photographs in the Metro police property room, of me benching pressing 375 lbs to 400 lbs (1996-97), that since the age of eight (1965) I patterned my physical health around body-builder icon Jack Ahane (Elane?) who intrigued and inspired me during his television show in 1964-65; that Metro detective Pat Postillion (misspelled) stated in court (1998) "MR. Reid is some kind of Health person, bodybuilder".

Mr. DeVasher asked me why did MR. Stuwaat Coots an I associate so well from 1971 to 1982 since were so different. I stated Mr. Coots an I had a compound chemistry mixture that balanced an amiable friendship, he (MR. Coots) is the daredevil, I was a thrillseeker, that the both of us came from decent neighborhoods. MR. Davis Barker inquired about MR. Stuwaat Coots drinking habits; and did he use drugs. I stated to MR. Barker, practically every person I've known uses drugs, smokes, drinks alcohol of choice, is a measure of mischievous, that this is life, reality is unavoidable in the real world. That, although I did not drink, use drugs smoke, get tattoos, body piercing, engage in promiscuous sexual behavior; that life-style choice my friends and acquaintance chose did not cause me to become partial toward those who did, since, I grew up in a society where eight out of ten people rather smoked, drank, used drugs, entertained promiscuity. Mr. Baker requested I elaborate about MR. Cook and I criminal activity.

I revealed that in 1981 or 1982, Mr. Cook burglarized his millionaire boss' home, MR. Charles A. McKinley (1807 Oak street, Pasadena, Texas), that I bought a round 1.41 ct solitaire diamond from Mr. Cook that came from the burglary, and I took Mr. Cook to a former employer, Manuel Garcia, owner of downtown Radiator, 505 Fairview, Houston, Texas; MR. Manuel Garcia bought a solid diamond watch and bracelet from Mr. Cook. Mr. Cook had several pieces of diamond jewelry, and several mint furs for sell, from the heist. (These facts can be verified by contacting the Pasadena police, and MR. Charles A. McKinley). In 1981 or 1982, Mr. Cook approached me to assist him in loading-up T.V.'s from a store his brother Edward Cook managed. MR. Stewart Cook's brother, Mr. Eddie Cook, managed an appliance store, "Curtis Mattas", the most expensive T.V. in Houston, in the 1980's. The store is located approximately Fifteen miles south of Houston, off I-45, somewhere near, or in Alvin, League City, Webster, Pearland or Dickinson, Texas. MR. COOK first requested to use my pick-up truck to load-up T.V.'s, and promised me a T.V. for use of my truck. I had a very weak personality to peer-pressure at that time (during my 1999 trial, Dr. Xavier Amador explained my brain developed twice as slow, oppose to those who have the disease that causes individuals to age twice as normal.) I tried to elude Mr. Cook's request, I did not want to loan out my truck. MR. COOK influenced me to go with him. MR. COOK opened the back door of his brothers appliance store with my tire jack tool, loaded-up the bed of my truck with "Curtis Mattas" T.V.'s in their box, and I received two (2) T.V.'s. (These facts can be verified by contacting MR. Edward Cook, and the city of that Curtis Mattas Police dept.) MR. COOK was never arrested or charged with the burglary of his boss' home, Charles A. McKinney, or his brothers Curtis Mattas appliance store. I reject ANY notion I was not yet mentally ripe IN 1980-81, though I do not disavow my completely in gastrulation with Mr. Cook,

I accept full responsibility for my actions.
Though I felt at the time, I was not the actual culprit, I now fathom the fact is written in contrast of my then subjective discerning viewpoints. I am extremely remorseful.
IN 1981-82 MR. COOK ENCOURAGED ME TO COMMIT A ROBBERY WITH HIM; DEEP INSIDE I DID NOT WANT TO GO ALONG. MR. COOK WOULD SAY TO ME, "DON'T BE A BIG QUASY LITTLE"
SO-IN-SO. PRIOR TO THE ROBBERY, I ACTED IN A MELODRAMATIC FASHION, (EXAMPLE) YEAH, I'M GONNA WALK IN THERE, PULL OUT MY SIX-SHOTTER
LIKE WYATT EVERETT AND TAKE OVER THE SALOON.
WHEN MR. COOK AND I ACTUALLY ARRIVED AT THE BANANZA STEAK RESTAURANT ON SPENCER HWY, PASADENA TEXAS, I WAS SO NERVOUS, MY KNEES FELT LIKE
JELLO, MR. COOK LITERALLY - PHYSICALLY HELPED ME OUT OF MY TRUCK. I EXPERIENCED A MINUTE
MUTATION. MR. COOK ASKED ME: "WHERE IS THAT MACHO MAN AT THE HOUSE SWINGING HIS SIX-SHOTTER AROUND HIS FINGER?" INSIDE THE RESTAURANT, I QUIETLY SAID TO THE MANAGER, "THIS IS A ROBBERY, PLEASE TAKE ME TO THE SAFE". MR. COOK BECAME VERBOSELY RAMBUNCTIOUS, MENACING, PERILOUS TO THE EMPLOYEES AND CUSTOMERS. THE PASADENA POLICE REPORT
EXHIBITS THAT THE VICTIMS STATED TO THE POLICE, ONE OF THE ROBBERS WAS TERRORIZING, THE OTHER

very polite; Even so, I should have said no when Mr. Cook first approached me. I am profoundly ever regretful. A second robbery took place at a steakhouse restaurant off Spencer Hwy. in Pasadena, Texas, on a Monday morning in February 1982. Again, I experienced a minute micturition as Mr. Cook an I promenaded into the restaurant. My guilt and shame grew rapidly, an increasingly within by this time. In March 1982, my wife an I reach a consensus, I could move to Bowie, Texas, (Sunset, Texas) began farming watermelons peanuts and tomatoes with a farmer I knew in Sunset, Texas (6½ hrs North of Houston, 2hrs North of Dallas) an once I settled into a home she would leave her job as a bank executive, and move to Sunset, Texas, to reside with me. However, she came to Sunset most every weekend. We purchased a Ford tractor, an F-3600, 40HP diesel engine, live P.T.O., in March 1982, at a food dealer in Grufton, Texas. I started farming by March 1982, and made weekend trips to Houston a few times. Mr. Jeff DeVashere asked me to pause, and concisely depict how I met my wife, and describe our marriage. I stated that in 1979, July, I was employed as a guard at Houston's largest bank as noncommissioned, downtown Houston. My job duties consisted of checking employees identification badges, & pressing a button for a door to open, so the employee could access their work area, which housed the bank's main computer where monies are added or deducted from personal and corporate accounts, to the tune of an average of two hundred and fifty million dollars daily (1979). I stated I guarded the most sensitive and sophisticated area of the bank. I said that a few girls, about five (5) went to lunch as a group, and that one of the five girls stood out. Mr. Jeff DeVasher said what physically attracted you to this girl you eventually married. I said, by the way she dressed is what first enticed my attention. I said possibly a hundred girls worked in the area of the bank, in which I controlled the only entrance and egress. That most attire was sexually oriented, which I said is superb to any heterosexual, most all heterosexuals enjoy to get there eyes full viewing sexually dressed-adorned girls. However, I immediately noticed one attractive girl wore her dress beyond her knees, and I casually observed from day 1 day she wore her skirts beyond her knees, and not once in a two (2) week period, I seen her dress sexually revealing. I had an abundant of reverence toward her because of the way she dressed. On a Monday, my third week on the job, she inquired about me, to a female guard supervisor who trained me. I worked from 2:00 P.M. to 10:00 P.M., the lady I married worked from 6:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M., so during my third monday, she approached me at my desk after she was off work at 3:30 P.M., introduced herself, and visited with me til (five) 5:00 P.M. I was most intrigued with her over all, totally impressed with her debonair personality, her vast intelligence in banking, and the idea she showed a profound interest in me. She visited with me on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday as the same as Monday at my third week, by Friday, I asked her out. She later shared with me: "I knew you liked me because you kept asking me to come back and visit with you, an I knew you wanted to ask me out, I was beginning to wonder if I would be able to bring it out of you, to ask me out, so if you didn't ask me out by Friday, I would have asked you out." That Saturday, I took her to Galveston beach, at the beach, she removed her beach shirt, exhibiting a two (2) piece bikini.

which is appropriate apparel for the beach. Being a body builder, I observed she did not have one ounce of fat. Mr. Barker asked what other areas of qualities did she have that lead you to marry her. I said in 1979 I was Twenty-one, attending my third semester of college, majoring in law, marriage was not even part of my vocabulary, I had not once contemplated marriage. To me, marriage would be after college. I met my ex-wife at the bank, - she is a professional banker, slightly older than me. In my Texas dialect, she did not play any bullshit games, she was straight forward, placed all her cards on the table from day one, completely candid, visibly established her intent. She likes me, desires to date me, did not play immature, juvenile games, such as chase after me, pursue me, hard to get. She was far more intellectual than me, in fact, she was far beyond intellectual than everyone in our age group at that time; at the bank she would walk into a room, and bank employees would cluster around her, expecting her to solve their banking problematic complications. She accepted me as natural as I was, a college student, a bank guard, hearing impairment, orthography impaired, dysphasia, prior arrest. She never once used drugs, never toyed with cigarettes, did not drink, - her style of clothing was à la mode, she was sweet, kind, gentle, soft, and passionate. I was enamored with her. Mr. Baker said tell me about the marriage. On September 19, I enrolled at Jay Petroleum vocation, a nine month course. I was trained in reading, in deciphering industrial blueprints, using instruments dial caliper (dialcaliper), micrometers, vernier calipers able to measure in one thousandths of an inch. I became employed at Jay Petroleum Equipment, May 1980, as an industrial machinist, and a computer programmer of industrial machines. I proposed to my ex-wife in Dec. 1979, at Galveston, Texas, at a five star restaurant. Our marriage was in August 1980, thirteen months after our first date. I am a Baptist she was a Catholic, her and I married at the Catholic church she attended. (approximately two-hundred-plus people attended, we had a full scale reception, meal, bar, band, & We spent our honeymoon night at the Statler Hotel-Houston, where we consummated our marriage. We honeymooned in Corpus Christi Texas. We were together for thirteen months of dating in a monogamous courtship, then approximately three and one half years of marriage. She was the master economist in our twosome.

family, I was the conservative, we collaborated to spend-bug, as we go, we both earned an average of twenty-five grand each a year. (verifiable with 1982-83 T.R.S. Findings). We rented a townhouse apartment, then bought a five grand table, two leafs, six chairs; a seven grand bedroom suit; couch & love-seat; CURIO; Howard Miller master grandfather clock, APPLIANCES; art, etc. Life was good, our sex life superb. In 1981, we traded in our truck and car, and purchased two brand new models. We purchased a piece of waterfront property in Lake Livingston, Texas, one hour north of Houston off I-45, with the intent to build on the property in five or ten years, for a vacation resort. She was extremely patient with me as I'd revert to my youthful child-like behavior characteristics, paedomorphism, very facetious. She instilled, an embedded in me the most essential, pivotal qualities, to enlighten, and edify in me, the continuity process of being a mature, intellectual man. It would take an estimate of five years after our divorce, before the qualities she instilled in me during our marriage, would take root and ripen; the transparency of the evidence, of her fruits of labor of love, is the product of my college G.P.A., and my decorum.

Mr. Baker inquired, did you ever hit your wife. I chuckled, there was nothing to hit on her, she is five-foot, petite, zero fat tissue, I'm a muscular bodybuilder, what possibly would it profit me, gain me, or prove to me, or her, by me becoming physically combative, belligerent or aggressive. I am INNOCUOUS around girls. I have believed since age Twelve, when I first began my odyssey - making-out with girls, (osculating), the girls are God's gift to men, I believe that ten-folds more today, it's my orthodoxy I live by, as I'm very opine. I become zestful very enthusiastic, when girls exhibit an interest in me. Nine out of ten girls I've dated which may be in the neighborhood of a hundred plus, have always made the first initial physical contact with me, after the ice has been broken, I'm the lover, the amorous in me emerges, I'm King of the bedroom, and an affectionate lover everywhere with my mate, Parks, Malls, beaches, etc. Incidentally, when I took my wife out on our first date, I took her to Galveston Beach, Texas on a Saturday afternoon, later that evening, we dined at a five star restaurant in Houston for dinner around mid-night. I held her in my arms embracing, caressing, an it took me approx.

Forty-five minutes to ask her if I could kiss her. I'm in no wise mortified or disgraced to reveal this to you macho attys. After the first kiss, we were physically inseparable for the next three years exactly how I prefer my mates. May I share most of all, if not all girls I've been involved with throughout my life, have all been more intellectual than I am, earned more revenue than me (I reverted to my facetious at this point-moment) (Facetious characteristics) and all my dates have been prettier than me Gentlemen, I'm thrilled, most honored to every individual girl, who permitted me to have entertained her.

Mr. Jeff DeKoster said,

Walk me through your life, as you recall it. My parents divorced when I was an infant. I lived with my Dad, grandmother, and older sister Janet, from infancy, til age nine. When I was four, my dad had a brief marriage, no long duration. My grandmother basically raised me to the age of nine, in a bourgeoisie neighbourhood, she was a superb provider, she dressed me in suits, with dress shorts on Sundays for church. My dad was rarely home, so I was at liberty to do as I pleased, and naturally, as expected,

With no parent or disciplinarian to lead me, guide or direct me, I found trouble, and trouble found me from time to time, as expected. My Father did not enroll me in public school til age seven. At age seven, I, an 8th grade student went into the kitchen area of the school, and took seven dollars out of a maid's purse. Two hours afterward, we returned the money. The incident became a permanent record in my school files. On two (2) occasions at age eight, my grandmother had the Catholics intervene, and remove me from her home, because I was unmanageable for her to provide care and effective obedience. The Catholic church placed me in their care twice; at age nine, an at nine, the Catholic Church and the court returned me to my mother, my Spanish step-dad, my two (2) older natural sisters (Linda and Janet), and my two (2) step-sisters (Monica and Karen). Monica and Karen are younger, I'm in the middle of five siblings, the only boy. At age nine, my mother enrolled me back in school, however, because I did not start school until age seven, the school, at age seven shuffled me back and forth each day between Kindergarten and First grade, in an attempt to catch me up to my age level. I became so

- befuddled, I did not learn anything. So the school felt I had a learning disability, and placed me in special education classes. It took five years to realize I did not have a learning disability, and place me back into regular, normal school classes. However, because the school system originally had placed me in special education, I had no choice but to attend special education classes at the school, where classes were held. So every morning, a school bus van, picked me up at my mother's home, drove me, and six other special ed students across town, to an all black elementary (from 1966 to 1969). The special ed students were all white, about thirty-two students, eight students per-class, four classrooms. The school, Boston Elementary-Houston, was operated by an all white faculty staff. At age twelve (1969) I made quarterback on the all black football team (though I was not a very effective quarterback moving the ball up field.) I did make friends. Because I had yet to learn to read in 1969, magazines, newspapers, television news was not apart of general knowledge yet, I was oblivious to the racial tension, and uprising across America. grew up in an all white communities, and characterize myself as an al fresco youngster. In 1970, the school system relocated the special ed

Program to Greg Elementary, an all white school. In 1970, I entered school in September at age twelve, I turned thirteen in November. It would be a major turning point mentally for me, a defining moment. The three R's, reading writing and arithmetic, ushered there way into my mental facilities, and school, classroom academics became simplified. The school bus van would drop me off in front of the school, right where the six grade students were. I was so embarrassed, totally petrified, that the normal student would know I'm in special ed., and think or know I'm dumb. And call me a retard, so I'd exit the school bus, put my head down, and rush to my special ed. classroom. My first two weeks at Greg Elementary in September, went okay but I tried to show myself from the normal student, worried at name calling, but I could not have more mis-diagnosis the thoughts and perception of the normal students. After my second week at the school, six grade girls where approaching me as I emerged from the school bus van, asking me my name, inquiring why I was in special ed. (I surmise these teacher(s) must've informed all students a new special ed. program will be established at the school.) I'd simply convey to the girls, I'm a little slow in learning. A week later, the girls had me signed-up in the school

Chair, on the recreation yard, guys and girls from normal classrooms developed friendships with me, and much to my surprise, I don't remember one normal student revealing one word to me in negative manner about me being in special ed.

There were four (4) six grade girls in a clique the most popular, who invited me over to their home where, at age twelve, I kissed my first girl. The whole school year, I dated all four (4) girls, my oldest sister Linda, would take us to the movies, the zoo, concerts at The Sam Houston Coliseum, the mall, etc. The four (4) girls would share me in kissing.

In 1970, kissing and the breast was the big thing in my generation, sex had not made its public debut.

yet on T.V., Magazines, etc., And us kids knew nothing about the subject yet. In 1970-71, I attended (a) Tukker Junior High School, Special ed. the demographics of the school were one-third white, one-third black, and one-third mexicans. somewhat blended into the fabric of the school student population. No big frills with the girls that years.

In 1971-72, my mother had enough of special ed., and enrolled me in the Pasadena, Texas, school district, an all white school district. I entered the eighth grade, and for the first time since age seven, I was in normal classrooms. The school, South Houston Middle School, grades six through eight. I was now fourteen (14) and the first four (4) months of school, I was very popular with the girls, holding hands with a lot of them, walking them to class, going over to their homes to make-out. But unlike the clique of girls in the six grade, the four (4) who shared me; I learned in the eighth grade, the precepts differed, girls are extremely jealous, and by January, I had a reputation of two-timing and went without a steady girlfriend. T.L. My lesson in dating I learned the hard way. In 1972-73, I entered South Heston High School, ninth grade Pasadena school district was very discipline, a military-style school if you will, I got sent home twice in one day, because my hair was not cut short enough. No advertising on clothes, no short tails out, no short skirts, and the teacher only spoke once, and we all obeyed, period. He did not witness any drug use, cigarette smoking, or alcohol consumption, in my tenure at Pasadena schools. In 1973, age sixteen, (16), I left home, but, since I was enthralled in learning, I tried my best to remain in school, to become educated, coupled with trying to balance working, learning to pay bills on time, buy groceries, it was overwhelming, I was over my head, and with no prior learning I failed, naturally, without saying. However, from December, or January 1974 to 1976, I attended, Sheepstawn High school - Houston; LAMAR High School - Houston; Debbie High school - Pasadena; SAM Rayburn High school - Pasadena, the reason why I had to move to where the jobs were located, but paid the best wages to support myself financially. In 1977, I earned my G.E.D. at SAN Jacinto Junior College, Pasadena, Texas, where I also attended college, majoring in Law, from for five (5) semesters. I also attended soy Petroleum vocational schooling, a nine month course, where I learned to read and decipher industrial blueprints, to read and use vernier calipers, micrometers, in one thousandths of an inch. I used that educational training to work at soy Petroleum Equipment as a machinist, an a computer machinist programmer.

MR. Jeff De Vasher stated describe your life with your mother. I said, I resided with my grandmother from as an infant, to age nine, my grandmother was a superb provider. At age nine (9) the court gave my mother custody of me, sole parental custody. The first year living with my mother was hard, she was puritanical, very austere, domineering. I lived in a matrarch household. My mother hit me with her hand, a belt, a belt buckle, a coat hanger, etc., although, the beastly aggressive behavior of my mother only emerged for one (1) year, my first year living with my mother. In retrospect, I.E., I deserved a good Texas ass whipping from time to time. It was crucial that my mother establish leadership, authority, over me, and with me. My father failed to discipline me the first nine (9) years of my life, in fact, I only recall my dad spanking me three (3) times. I seldom ever told my dad serious when he admonished me, I would not listen to him, per se. My mothers husband also was rough with me the first year I lived at their home. However, in that era, parents controlled all the physical dominion over their offspring. Every person I grew up with, had been hit with a belt, buckle, switch from a tree, books thrown at them, hair pulled, shirts ripped off, etc., And today, all those kids I know are lawyers, doctors, engineers, executives in Lyons, working with NASA-Houston, today. I do not accuse my mother of child abuse. For everytime my mother became violent, I brought the situation upon myself, because I was cognizant of her personality as well as her stipulations. From age nine to sixteen, for every time I transgressed the rules, my mother only became an enforcer one out ten times, nine out of ten times she elected to look the other way with me. My family lived in a brick home.

I first shared a bedroom with one of my little sisters, eventually my mother moved my sister into another bedroom, and I had my own room. Every Christmas was a big, lavish event, and I always received the most gifts, or most expensive gifts. (I challenged Mr. Baker to have my Mother, step-dad, oldest sister Linda, to walk him through our christmases of 62, 63, 64, 70, 71) I received race car sets, electronic football game, mini bike, four ten speed bikes in four years, all types of Tonka trucks, cars, boats, etc., a stereo, a complete drum set, and the list goes on. My birthdays - my mother bought me a $21.00 dollar bike from Sears for my tenth birthday (1967) which was a lot of money in 1967. Every birthday exceeded or out done the previous one. (I explained to Mr. Baker & Mr. De Vasher, I have nothing to gain by fabricating, check my facts out.) I said my mother always dressed me in the latest, stylish fashion. (Jennifer Krouse from News 5 Nashville, eye witnessed a series of pictures of me during age nine through sixteen.) My mother as my grandmother, were superb providers to me. From age nine to sixteen while I lived with my mother, she enrolled me in the 4-H (a youth organization sponsored by the Dept. of Agriculture) for six years & raised chickens, turkeys, ducks, rabbits, a horse, and I grew watermelons and carrots, my mother paid for all the feed and the needed attributes to care and provide for my animals. My mom and step dad enrolled me in Little League baseball for four (4) years. I also played one year of basketball, I was on a swimming team. My mother took me to private drum lessons for two and one half years so I could learn to play the complete drum set she bought me, that I asked her to buy me. From age ten to thirteen, my mother enrolled me in the Catholic Church program, where I earned my first holy communion, confirmation, as I was an acolyte (alter boy). From age twelve to fifteen my mother employed me at the Five star restaurant where she was manager and general manager, The Club Castille, downtown Houston, 9th floor of the Houston House, a thirty story building. The Castille Club viewed across (across) the highrise buildings of downtown Houston, a magnificent sight at night time, very picturesque, panoramic. During the summer of 1970, at age twelve, my mother employed me to work the lunch hour, from 10:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M., to clean-up a night cocktail lounge, that is located also on the ninth floor of the Houston House building, down the hall from the restaurant, The Club Castille. The lounge is called, The Little Club. There wasn't actually much, next to nothing to clean-up, because the night crew-staff, physically clean the Little Club before closing every night. The Little Club basically catered to the residence who lived at the Houston House building, which is an apartment and condominiums building, thirty stories, in an exclusive area of downtown Houston. My mother would take me with her to work during the summer of 1970, from 10:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M., she paid me about three dollars each day I should have been paid, plus, I was provide a free lunch daily, consisting of five star virtual-cuisine. Prior to my cleaning duties each morning, my mother would open the juke-box, and activate the juke-box to play every record systematically in sequence arrangement, and provide me a few quarters from the pool table, so I could play the billiards. The most vital task of my job, was to push a cart from the Little Club, into the Castille Club restaurant, and fill the cart up with ice, to furnish the Little Club with ice. As I retrieve the ice from the Castille Club, I'd go to the desert pastry, and load up on the deserts (taking choice deserts back to the Little Club in the ice cart). Occasionally, my mother would come into the Little Club to check-up on me and see a desert or two, or the dirty dish,

AN INQUIRE about the desert, I'd usually say the desert was here when I arrived. My mother was abreast I was taken deserts from her restaurant, but, looked the other way understanding all kids cherish deserts. There were about six (6) teenagers who lived in the Houston House building, whose parents were lawyers, doctors, executives, one - a C.E.O., these rich kid would come to the ninth floor, to sun-bathe by the swimming pool, I made friendships with them, and they'd come into the Little Club when I was there, we'd lock the door listen to the juke-box, I let them have all the draft beer they wanted, we'd play pool, go out on the balcony where they'd smoke their weed, we'd sometimes leave the Little Club and go up to there parents' plush condominium, and just hang-out as teenagers would do. I attended a few weekend-night parties at there.

Parents' residence ... In September of 1970, I convinced my mother to permit me to work for her in the kitchens of the Castle Club. I washed dishes, and assisted the chef by retrieving meats from the walk-in ice-box, get spices, oils, wines, vegetables, etc., I got along excellent with both the executive Chef, and the master Chef. I became totally intrigued with culinary arts, how the chefs prepared flavoring mixes, deserts, and certain dishes. Since my mother actually employed two or regular dish washers, and only hired me because I asked her for a job, plus, she could keep her eye on me during the weekend, I began to spend less, and less time at the dish washing station and practically all my time being of service to the chefs, who welcomed my service on the weekends, and admired my willingness to master culinary arts. After one year, I had been trained to cut any type of beef. From a quarter hind or shoulder, I could filet mignon, steaks, rib-eye, prime rib, escargot, prepare and flame bananas foster with brandy sauce, a dash of butter, bananas, rum, ice cream; I learned how to order fishes from vendors, and to not order any seafood from Major restaurant on Mondays & Tuesdays because those seafood à la cartes on the menu are seafood left-over from Friday, and therefore, not fresh. That you only order seafood at a restaurant between Wednesday and Saturday, sometimes you can push the envelope to Sunday, sometimes I learned how to marinade meats, and you only use the marinade once. Red wine for red meat such as beef, white wine for white meats such as chicken, some porks, some fishes, etc. . . .

During trial two (9.11.99) my Texas girlfriend Linda Patten testified that she and I resided in a cohabit relationship in her Texas luxurious home, from 3.1996 to 1.02.1997, and that I performed all the cooking. It was not that Mrs Linda Patten could not cook, she is a very good cook, as most women are, I performed all the cooking because I am more skillful, a saute master. At age Fourteen (14) (1971) my mother moved me from the kitchen of her restaurant, to the bar and made me a bartender, dressed one in tuxedo trousers, a tuxedo shirt, black bow tie, dress shoes and a reddish vest. The Houston House requires wait staff to frequent the bar during happy hour, 4:00 P.M. - to 7:00 P.M., usually after a day at the office, and prior to going up to their apt., we served hors d'oeuvres, usually consisting of spicy rolled meatballs, sometimes shrimp, sometimes oysters on the half shell. (when shrimp are offered free, anywhere, is because their headless live (borderline) spoiled, and chefs are trying to dump them.) I developed relationships with alot of customers, usually, merely passing jokes from a teller to a hearer. In 1971, my mother sold her brick house, moved us to the Houston House, rented an apartment on the twenty-first floor, while her realtor - - - searched for a home to satisfy her needs. I met a young lady at the bar during my working hours. A Native Wood (actress) look-alike who visited the bar a few times. She lived in the Houston House, a professional who worked downtown, about twenty-seven years old, and she was a few jokes. Conversed on small talk, she would ask me questions. One evening a gentleman took her out on the Town. To hear the Houston Symphony, then to the Hyatt Regency to dine, she sent her date home after he escorted her to her apartment at around 11:00 P.M. that evening. She visited the bar for a midnight caper before retiring for the evening. The bar closed at midnight on weekdays, as she began to sign-off on her bar tab around 11:45 P.M., I asked her if I could come up to her apartment. She paused and pondered, and with an illuminated expression said I'll leave the door unlocked, so let yourself in.

I went back to the bar, rushed to clean up, by 12:15 P.M., I placed my vest and tie in the closet, left the Castille Club, while my mother closed out the daily receipts on the cash register for the next hour. I took the elevator from the ninth floor, to her floor.
My intent was to hug and kiss her, and the breast. I let myself in her apartment, all her lights were out, candles burning, soft music on her stereo, drapes open, she was laying on the couch with a throw pillow, in a silk bath robe. I sat down beside her, caressed her back with some lite kissing. A few moments later she got up, poured us both some wine in wine goblets, we strolled out on the balcony, a picture perfect night, full moon, stars radiate in the sky, Houston's highrise building skyline, we embraced, shared some kisses, and eventually made our way back to her couch. She laid down, pulled me on top of her, while kissing, she pulled my shirt out of my pants, unfastened my trousers, I got totally disrobed, as she did. I was my first coitus experience. Months later, my mother, as well as half the residence in the Houston House knew of my first physical activity & basically, no one said a word, as if everything was acceptable. I adopted the C'est La Vie attitude. A few ladies who also resided in the Houston House, that were far much older would ask the bartender, Jack, to have me escort them to their room late at night resulting in inviting me into there apartments, and performing fellatio oral copulation. During trial two (9.11.99) Linda Patten, my Texas girlfriend, testified, that I worked part-time.

as an auto mechanic for a friend of mine, Wayne Meadlin, at his Texaco, in Fort Worth's west end neighborhood, where the customers leave cash tips to fill their cars up with gas.

Mr. Linda Tatton testified that ladies would come by the Texaco who desired to have me wait on their cars, and take me with them as they ran their errands, or call me on the phone at the Texaco, to come to their homes, invite me in, have me leave my car, and drive them back. (No extrapolation from me Mr. Barker). (3.25.96 - 1.2.97). Working for my mother was an extraordinary experience. I thoroughly enjoyed all the training I received in culinary arts, dressing to work in the restaurant, all the wonderful exposure to Houston's Ritz, opulence, socialite. The fine five star cuisine I enjoyed there all those years, the experience to taste RUSSIAN caviar, beluga, light, golden ossetra, to sip Dom Perignon champagne the elegant ladies. It was all a thrill. A story from Dr. Xavier Amador who testified under oath and conveyed to the courts in thick one, two and three, I have a broken brain, it became headline news in the media, however, Dr. Amador said how it has recurred to the media and court. Dr. Paul Ruble testified I'm the most decorated person east of the Mississippi River. Mr. Barker, do you believe my mother would have hired me, had I been INSANE, do you think I could have experienced all the tremendous life experiences had I been psychotic, - And in 1967, maintained as G.P.A. of H.O. at Val. State College. My life history speaks for itself. My mother remarried for the third (3rd) time by the end of 1971. In 1972, my mother purchased a four bedroom brick home, with a swimming pool, in an upper, middle class community. Again, I had my own bedroom, stereo, T.V., phone jack, and basically all a middle class boy could want. Between 1972 and 1973, though I liked my mothers third husband, we had a few fights, and leave the house for three or four days each time. In February 1974, at age sixteen (16) I left home after my mothers husband and I had a fight. My neighbor who was a senior in high school, found me a garage apartment a mile from my home. I took all my possessions clothes, stereo, T.V., etc., and left home to live on my own. My mother tried to offer me opportunities to move back home (I should have come back on my knees to accept her offers) but I was a hard-headed teenager who thought I could live a successful life on my own. Plus, as a teenager, I loved my freedom, with no authority. If only I could have seen around the corner; teenagers only think they know it all. I was so blase'.

From age nine to sixteen living with my mother, I experienced various emotions.

(MR. JEFF DeVasher said, explain yourself.)

At age nine, I was placed in special education, a yellow school bus van would pick me up at my home. I was conscious what all the other normal children would think of me in my neighborhood, the block our home was on, children lived in every other house. The kids accepted me as a normal playmate. They all accepted me with some type of learning disability (however, I never had a learning disability, I was misdiagnosed). Then my mother and step (step) father enrolled me in little league baseball in the community, I was nervous all the kids on all the ^{base teams} would know I'm in special ed., and know I'm a little dummy. Well, all the kids did know I was in special ed., because no one went to school with me, so I tried to stay in the background, but on April 1999, Atty. Mike Engle showed the jury a picture of me at age eight, at a neighborhood gymnasium, where I appeared in the Houston Chronicle newspaper, climbing a rope, Mr. Engle showed the picture on an overhead projector. Since age eight, I have always been at the top of my physical game, maybe a little above the average athlete; Dr. Daniel Martell testified at trial three (2000) that he visited with me at Riverbend, inquired how I'm doing mentally and physically, Dr. Daniel Martell stated I showed him some books I read, and that I took off my sweat-shirt to exhibit my washboard stomach, as well as my overall physique. From age nine to thirteen, while I was in special ed., I keep a fear poised over my brow, of being rejected by normal students, that kids would know I'm a dummy, that someone may call on me to read, spell a word, in the group when I'm with the normal kids (Mr. Baker said, were you ever asked) I said NO, NOT ONCE. Everyone in my community knew I was in special ed., accepted me as I was, and though I tried to remain in the background on the baseball team, football team, baseball team; because I was physically a little above the average, the kids pushed me to the front. All the teenage parties I attended, I got pushed to the center, that borderlined my comfort zone. Because I basically began my public debut in special ed. oppose to the mainstream of life, I've struggled in life with acceptance, sometimes viewing myself as not good enough, undeserving, will Never be an all american boy, my dreams fear childhood. I view some of my childhood as athletics like Washington Red Skins Dexter Manley who testified before Congress on the hill; he said he graduated from college, but cannot read, my point, athletics are liked and welcomed, but not the erudite in a group. This is what I mean at an emotional rollercoaster I experienced from age nine to thirteen. Acceptance, still affects me in minute ways even today. Had my ex-wife not approached me, and introduced herself. I may not have met the lady who instilled the most vital qualities of life in me, who was most effective to me. (Mr. Baker, said, what happens after 1973.) In 1974, I first moved into a garage apartment, I was sixteen (16), I worked part time at a local restaurant, remained in school. A few months later in June 1974, a friend of mine, whose dad is a dentist and worked on my teeth; my buddy and I moved to the southwest side of Houston into a nice apartment. We remained roommates for six months, I elected to branch out on my own, I had a girlfriend at the restaurant an older person. I attended Sharpstown High school. I had purchased a used

C.R. In 1975 I enrolled in Lamar High School. My mother rented me an apartment in River Oaks, Houston's most opulent area, where homes-mansion start at a cool million, my favorite home there cost six-million in 1973. I developed friendships at Lamar High, about four months later, there were about six or eight of us kids hanging out at my apartment. Sometimes on the weekends, we'd party at these parents' mansion, while the parents took a weekend hiatus. One of the guys from River Oaks on St. rented a two-bedroom apartment, to have a spacious place for entertaining girls and company.

My mother who trained me in proper decorum and proprieties, a little charm, a little athletic build, abundantly vigorous, a balance of adulation, was the perfect equilibrium to date a few married, athletic ladies. I dated one particular between 1975, and C.R. To 1977, one particular lady, married to a successful businessman, millionaire.

During the courtship, we reach a consensus, to procreate her. During her estrus cycle, conception was propitious, during her ovulation duration. She gave birth a cute angel girl. At the hospital, I viewed our daughter. The relationship was discreet, very clandestine. I received luxurious gifts, revenue advancements, fashion clothes traps, etc. In 1979, I explained my entire life history to my (then) wife to be. I revealed to my private attorney Cabell Nakas, Jr. in 1985, I fathered a daughter. In 2000, defense attorney Mr. Ross Lox inquired about a child I fathered. During a visit from Mr. Ross Lox at Riverbend in 2000, Mr. Lox asked me how to get to Louisiana from Houston. I spontaneously recognized the question, as one that the military govt would have Mr. Lox ask me, I responded, I don't know. However, in all veracity I have been to Louisiana approximately fifty to sixty times between 1975 and 1982. I drove sometime other times I was chauffeured. The one I accompanied, entertained me at up-scale night clubs and order a Heineken beer, sip on it, nurse it, as my lady companion would order a fresh drink, she would order me a fresh cold Heineken I may go through or be served five or six Heinekens, although I only consume a half bottle. we closed a few clubs, other times we'd party til four in the morning with her club owner friends, two hours after the club closed. The River Oaks-Houston, friend-Roommate and I, went our separate ways after our six month apartment rental lease had been fulfilled. I attended Dobie High School-Pasadena - then final

Sam Rayburn - Pasadena I wanted so much to graduate from High school, that's why I made every conscious, feasible, self-will effort to stay in school, despite all the new found joys of life. I was discovering, school means the most vital to me. Graduating from high school was not to be, I earned a C.E.D. in 1977. Though I did date a senior from Pasadena High Pasadena, my final year in school. she was my High school sweetheart, as I experienced the home coming, dinner afterwards. After high school, we drifted apart, all my fault, I was traveling over creation by this time. Our path crossed about two years later on the college campus, she looked terrible, but I had too many irons in the fire to commit to one girl, nonetheless, stay settled for very long. No grass was growing under my feet, I was involved with an older lady, who took me to levels in life I only dreamed about, plus, I had a few college playmate girls I socialized with. It was all part of a wonderful experience from a males perspective. Life was good. I moved back home once in the mid 70's only for a few months, this time it was my mother, oppose to my step dad who I'd have clashes with. And, from 1974 to 1978, as with any typical teenager living on his own, the obvious occurred, I found trouble, trouble.

Found men teenagers thinking there so astute scenario, that were so clever, that we can get free money without passing go, and believing we actually invented the method, until we find ourselves face to face with police detectives and district attys who informed us the little socially bad we're on, is perfectly to them, they let us know very clearly that they deal with kids like us everyday, know all the games, heard all the stories, then we come to terms with ourselves that we're really not as smart as the adults now did we create the first get rich method. Thankful for me, my congenital father always hired Houston's most prestigious lawyer to keep ^{me} out in society (MR. Gabe Nahas, Jr.). The Houston police detectives, the judges, and D.A. knew my private detective dad. And my mother during that era knew everyone, I could vividly see that those in authority allowed me a few extra chances to get my kazoo lined up with the law abiding society.

(MR. David Barker

Scold, hold your horses cowboy, and let me check my notes with you, to make sure in recording your time live accurately.)

From infancy to nine, you resided with your grandmother, your grandmother was an excellent provider, you were at liberty to do as you please. From nine to sixteen you lived with your mother, your mother was brutal, your first year, things improved thereafter; you played sports, football, baseball, basketball, swimming; your mother employed you at her restaurant, she trained you to assist the chefs, and busboy. From sixteen to twenty-one you ~~were~~ on your own, got a G.E.D., three semesters of college, a year of vocational school, worked as a guard at the bank, met your wife, from 1980 to 1982 worked as a machinist and machinist computer programmer, married from 1980 to 1985.

(again, Mr. Baker, starting, walk me through 1985 at the Texas Prison you were incarcerated at.)

In April 16th, 1984 I pleaded guilty to a single robbery, I was sentenced to twenty years in the Texas Dept. of Corrections. My wife was more than willing to stand by my side, and wait for me. I persuaded her to move on with her life, to go forward, remarry, have children or I'll visit her once I'm paroled. In 1985, my wife and I divorced. In February 1985, I was sent to the Ellis II prison unit, Huntsville, Texas. In 1985 the military-govt came to Ellis II Prison I presume to use inmates as a human experimental sub-jects. For no known reason, the military-govt choose me. I never once spoke with anyone from the military-govt. The military-govt took all eight hundred inmates to the prison gymnasium in increments of one hundred in a group, and had a military orator convey to the inmates that the military-govt will be trying out some psychological experiments on me, and will appreciate the inmates to participate. A few convict inmates told me everywhere. Somehow, the military-govt had stationed unseen cameras all throughout the prison, and my cell. (They) the military-govt, could see my every movement anywhere I went, see everything in my cell, even if I cmanism, (they) could see me. (They) could also hear every word spoken to me, an everywhere I spoke. Things inmates said to me in 1985, (they) would coach-instruct the inmate to repeat themselves to me in 1986, verbatim, things said to me in 1986, the inmate repeated in 1987; etc., all the way to my release from prison in 1.17.90. In 1986, on once in 1987, (they) coached all the inmates not to say a word to me for three days. For three (3) days, all the inmates at Ellis II did not speak to me. On the cell block I was housed on, had three (3) levels, twenty-one cells per-level, two (2) inmates per-cell, 134 inmates per-cellblock, the demographics, one-third white, one-third black, one one-third mexican. The military-goat coached all the black inmates to call me names all night long, (example: 11:00 P.M. to 5:00 A.M.) the next night, (they) coached all the mexicans to call me names all night. The third night, they instructed all the white inmates call me degrading names all night. This behavior occurred once, or twice a month, basically from 1987 to 1989.

In 1988, I was in the gymnasium exercising lifting weights.

I was lifting weights, while some inmates were playing basketball, a typical Saturday afternoon, nothing eccentric. I heard a yell, then I saw a mexican inmate o, striking a black inmate in the back, the mexican inmate struck the black inmate in the back an estimate of six times. Then the black inmate stumbling, went to the guard desk, I saw what I thought was red blood all over the back of the black inmate shirt, and red blood all over the flesh in that area. The MEXICAN inmate walked back to the weight area, tossed a steak knife behind a box locker. The guard called in about Twenty (20) guards. Every inmate in the gym was taken to the Majors office, an interviewed to exactly what he seen. I said I saw the mexican inmate stab the black inmate in the back, approximately six (6) times, then toss the steak knife behind a locker box. A few days afterward I realized I never actually physically seen the knife pierce, nor penetrate the back, or flesh, of the black inmate, but I was 100% under the assumption the mexican inmate had indeed stabbed the black inmate in ~~the~~ his back approximately six times, because I visually saw the mexican inmate striking the black inmate in the back, I visually saw what I presumed was red blood all ...

over the back of the black inmate, and blood all over the floor in that area. However, I first only seen the steak knife when the mexican inmate walked back to the weight lifting area where I was, then toss the knife behind a locker box. The black inmate, and the mexican inmate were taken out of the Gym, and transferred to other prisons. About Four (4) months later, the black inmate, and the mexican inmate were brought back to Ellis II. I. C. only the lunch meal, and sitting in the inmate chow hall at the first table as I walked in for lunch, the black inmate, and the mexican inmate were laughing and talking. A convict later that day told me the stabbing incident was all staged, that no one got stabbed. And the red blood I thought was red blood, was a Red mixture poured on the black inmates back and floor, while I was watching the mexican inmate discard the knife. The military-gov't perform the experiment, to see if I was a coward. The military-gov't was in the process learning all about me, these experimental Lab-Rat. (They) interviewed MR Stewart Cook at the prison unit he was serving his sentence. MR Cook characterized me to the military-gov't, as a man with a weak personality, easily manipulated, although, MR. Cook said to the 221st Regt Govt., I am super strong + in excellent physical condition. MR. Cook said he saw me whip four (4) men at one time. (This is true, I was dining at a local pizza parlor - Houston, in the late 70's, the waitress on I had a fling, the four (4) red-neck Texan cowboys consumed a beer too many, but were not inebriated, just tipsy, the cowboys were making obscenities to my waitress friend. I simply said to them from my table to hold down the sexual rhetoric, but, just like a Texan red-neck, the four (4) cowboys seized the moment to fight me, I accepted the challenge because I was confident in my physical ability against those four (4) men, and I won. Just no bragging rights, I never spoke about it, that not my style, MR. Cook brought it up) (See enclosed document report). MR. Baker, and MR. LeVasher, Please do not misinterpret, and because a weak personality, as in being physically weak. Personality stems from a psychological-mental control. Physical attributes deals with endurance, and motor skills.

MR. Cook elects to characterize me as a weak man, or weak personality. Its not that I have a weak personality, as much as I comprehend the ramifications it I get apprehended with Mr Cook during his felony robbery spree. I've since trained myself to categorically say no to participate in felonious activity on ANY scale.

Because the inmates on my cell-block were coached to call me names at night from 11:00 P.M. to 5:00 A.M., I'd have to go to my morning kitchen job duties, totally, physically, exhausted. Once, IN 1985, the military-gov't set me up in the shower, the inmate shower area has approximately eight shower-poles that stand vertical, from the floor to the ceiling. each shower-pole has six shower heads, so that SIX inmates can shower around one shower-pole. One morning I was showering, my white cellmate showering next to me. Then the military-gov't instructed a black inmate to stand next to my cellmate, erected, and masturbate to erection. I was absent-minded, unaware, as to actually know what to do about the situation, so I continued to shower. Later, ^aconvicted convict inmates informed me I was suppose to whip the cowboy shit out of his ass for disrespecting me, by masturbating near me.

From 1987 to 1989, the military-govt would not permit me to make any type of friendship with Black or Mexican inmates, having white inmates instructed to tell me that Blacks and Mexicans are second class citizens. All the inmates at Ellis II prison were a hundred percent aware, I was being watched twenty-four hours a day, the inmates knew they were being recorded around me, because the military-govt would coach them to repeat themselves, verbatim, what the inmate said to me the previous year. Only a few inmates would have anything to do with me, most all inmates avoid me, would ostracize me, get up and move if I sat next to them on a bench in the dayroom to watch T.V., From 1987 to 1989, I had no friends.

I took two (2) college course at Ellis II in 1988 and 1989, a Lee College program, with classrooms. My first course was a electronic course, I earned an A. My second course was: Co-Bal (used for business applications); ForTRAN (dealing, expressing algebraically, Graphics (displays data pictorially); Basic (programming language); and Pascal (support, and language structures). I took Co-Bal, ForTRAN, Graphics, Basic and Pascal all at the same time from Lee College (Baytown, Texas) at Ellis II

IN 1989, I maintained a B average, I would have brought my grade up to an A, because I had a high B average, and time to raise my grade averages, just as I maintained a G.P.A. 4.0 at Val State college IN 1997, college material is easy for me, as long as I have a preceptor to lead. However, on JAN 17, 1990, I paroled from Ellis II, and did not complete all the computer classes. My prison stay time, coupled with my good time, surpassed my twenty (20) years sentence, so I discharged my sentence. I would have paroled in 1989, but, I came up for parole twice, every six months prior to 1.17.90, the parole board rejected me. About two weeks before I were to appear before the parole lady, the govt-military would have six inmates jump me, and beat me down, which, the inmates did not mine, they basically hated me, because when the military-govt, came to Ellis II IN 1985, (they) took over the whole prison, all inmates, all guards, all staff. No one really minded the first year or two, but, by 1987, the inmates, guards, staff profoundly resented the military-govt controlling their lives around me, all the inmates, guards, staff, blamed me for the presence of the military-govt at Ellis II.

To make the inmates, guards, staff create a greater hatred toward me, the military-govt told all inmates, guards and staff, I'll receive twenty-five million dollars for being an experimental subject. The reason the military-govt told the inmates, guards and staff I'll receive twenty-five million for the five year experiment program, is so no inmate, guard, or staff member would think I'm being violated, not my constitutional rights, Civil Rights, or rights to privacy, but the truth is, all my rights were indeed violated from 1990 to 1997 1/2 while I was free. So, about two weeks prior to going before the parole lady, the military-govt had six inmates beat me down, realizing I may win against four men, but not six. The guards would come, SCRAPE me up off the concrete floor, toss me into a dark cell, no windows, only a green plastic mattress, an only in my boxer shorts. I'd lay in the cell for a week to heal, then returned to general population. I'd go before the parole lady, and both times, she said Paul, you've been fighting, so I'll deny you parole. The military-govt would have the six inmates who beat me down, come to the chow hall, sit by me at lunch,

AN laugh, I did not retaliate because I'd get a disciplinary case, I wanted to make parole, plus, I stayed focus on receiving twenty-five million dollars. I was promised once I'm free. MR. Baker, MR. DeFaster, I know a few men who are super nice, real gentlemen, slow to anger, on the other hand, these the total package physically, agile, nimble, dexterous, finesse. If they got a hold of you, you can kiss your sweet ass goodbye, but if they did get a hold of you, is because you did something to them. MR. Baker said, are you one of those people; I said, that's not my call. I'm an Amorist, a realist, a pragmatist, an analytical, trying to incorporate a pacifist into my lengthy chain of accomplishments. My most desire was to remain, and be a husband. From 1985 to 1987 at Ellis II I did not have one visit, in 1987, the military, govt had two ladies from the S.S.I. dept. come visit me concerning an over payment I received from S.S.I. in 1983, the issue got cleared up. S.S.I. matters are all handled by mail, S.S.I. personnel can't go into the field all across the country, everytime a dispute occurs, especially to a Prison, when a S.S.I. agent can have a Judge simply keep your butt locked up until the dispute is solved, or put a hold or detainer on you. The military-govt wanted me to become aware of these guards, to send S.S.I. personnel to visit me in Prison, that (they) controlled the prison itself, all guards, staff, inmates. In 1987 was my first visit, in 1988 the military-govt had my mom, dad, sisters Janet and Karen visit me till my release. My dad no longer had any type of Texas I.D. cards by 1988, no driver license, no nothing, by Texas law, my dad could not enter the prison, but, again, the military-govt slowly educated me on these enormous power. When my mom, dad, sisters Janet and Karen visited me, the first few visits were somewhat normal, they - my family - was elated, blissful, excited, all smiles, laughter, asking me, Paul, how did you get the military-govt in your life, how did you get all this power. My family was beyond belief, they were overjoyed. The military-govt had my dad reaffirm to me, I'll get out of prison, receive (receive) twenty-five million, and live a decent life. So this is what I stayed focussed on in prison, over looking all the torture.

By the fourth visit from my family, their demeanor dramatically changed, because when they first visited me at Ellis II, by the request of the military-gov't, the military-gov't took them into a room, showed my family video tapes of me all over the prison, video tapes of me talking in my cell when my family visited me on visit four, they realized that the military-gov't is recording everything they share with me, so my family and I could no longer discuss private family issues. In 1988, would be the final time my personal family ever again acted natural, normal, around me, as I had known my family all my life. My family knew every word, every act was being recorded anywhere in life I may go. On 1.17.90 I was paroled to Fort Worth, Texas Salvation Army half-way house. I wanted to return to Houston, my home, to live with my dad, to be near all my family, and friends. The military-gov't had me paroled to Fort Worth. I hated Fort Worth, but had no say in the matter. The military-gov't told me if I return to Houston, I'll take my last step. In February 1990, I could only find a job at a feed store, earning minimum wage, I thought, I'll take this job, as as I understand what the military-govt told me, by March 1990, my ship will come in, I'll receive my twenty-five million, and life will be good again, as I once knew it. March 1990 came and went, and for the next seven and a half years, the military-govt used people to tell me every month up til June 1997, my ship will come in. I will receive the promised Twenty-five million dollars... I will be happy, and I'll live a decent life. Because the military-govt used such excellent propaganda techniques on me from the onset, from 1985 to 1989 at Ellis II, showing me their mighty power, controlling all the guards, staff, inmates, bringing two S.S.I. personnel workers to Ellis II, bringing my family to Ellis II, having my dad verbally-physically tell me I'll receive Twenty-five million dollars, having inmates and guards tell me from 1985 to 1989, I'll receive twenty-five million dollars that from JAN. 1990, to June 1997, I was well inclined, willing to ~~be~~ believe, when people would tell me I'll be receiving the money next, next month, next month, I wanted to believe, after all, look who was doing the talking, the military-gov't - who has an annual budget of about a trillion dollars. In June 1990, I trained for a job to drive a truck and pull a trailer. I drove four hours one way, to deliver textile products, then back to the company, Monday through Friday. In Nov. 1990, I was driving in Grand Saline, Texas. It was about 12:30 A.M. (11.24.90) I was at the top of a hill, in the middle of the country, no lights, just cow pastures. As I began to drive down the hill, I seen the headlights of a vehicle traveling at a rapid speed to my right, on a country road, I thought how SURREAL a vehicle to travel at that speed on a dirt country road, especially at night. I knew he saw my headlights because I had lights on all around my trailer. There was no way I could stop driving down a hill, pulling a full load. The vehicle hit my right tire of my truck, taking the tire off my truck, I lost all control of steering, rolled once, and slid about 75 yards. I should have died, there is no doubt the military-gov't tried to kill me. (Check, Texas D.P.S. officer Ralph K. Farmer, 11.24.90 12:20 A.M., I.D. NO. 5866, Dist. 1B-8).

I remained on workmans camp. From 11.24.90 to 12.20.92. On or near Dec 1990 I was playing basketball at the ymca downtown Fort Worth, the military-govt used scientific technology to cause my right knee to dislocate. (See enclosed documents), because I had anatty handling the auto accident, he was able to claim my right knee injury dislocation, stemmed from the truck accident.

I joined the Fort Worth downtown ymca in February 1990 to September 1992, it was a childhood dream to be a member of the ymca, and I made the best of my time there. I knew basically all the members, as shown in my 13-photo albums in the Nashville-Metro police station property room. However, My life in general in Fort Worth, from 1.17.90 to 5.01.93 while I resided there was not fun, enjoyable, worthwhile to me. The military-govt, as like at Ellis II Prison, from 1985 to 1989 coaching all the guards, staff, inmates, the military-govt coached every person involved with me in Fort Worth. From 1990 to 1991 1/2, I dated about a dozen girls, they were coached by the military-govt what to say and do around me. The girls stayed with me an average of four weeks, each.

By 1991 1/2 I gave up dating, it was no fun, exciting, no intimacy, all the girls acted like robots, puppets, following military govt orders, nothing normal, natural. In Dec. 1993 (1992) I received a twenty-five thousand dollar settlement from the truck accident in Nov. 1990. I went to Dallas, got braces on my teeth, a nose reduction, not like the media claimed I never went massive plastic surgery, as stated in (1999). I moved to Oklahoma City, (5.0.93 Bethany) to attended Larisen School of Music. I knew how to play guitar, so I needed to take a couple of years of lessons to improve the quality of my music. I also took baking school classes. I enjoyed culinary arts (cooking) so I wanted to learn how to bake. I became asst. manager of a bakery in Oklahoma City. I began to go to a club in Oklahoma City to dance on Friday nights. I'd dance with girls at this club, by my fourth Friday, the military govt had coached all the girls there not to dance with me, I never went back again. In 1994, I met a girl at the health club I joined, it was merely a physically attraction. She convinced me to move in to her home with her four year old daughter.

I moved in three (3) months after living with her, one night she had gotten up around 2:00 A.M., it woke me, she had went into her four year old daughter's bedroom, removed her daughter's night shirt. The next morning at breakfast she asked me how her daughter's night shirt came off, because it was so peculiar. I almost said, I took it off, but for some reason, I said, I don't know how your daughter's night shirt came off. (Trial One, Danny Tackett testified to Test. Thurman H. 99, I was facetious all the time.) Had I playfully said, "I removed your daughter's night shirt, the military-gov't planned for her to file pedophilic charges against me, despite I'm a philoprogenitive." A week afterward, I moved out of her home. To appease me, and restore my belief in the military-gov't. the military-gov't said I could return to Houston. In Sept. 1965, I rushed home to Houston, to visit my family, friends, and to be home again. I learned in Houston, the military-gov't had knocked on thousands of doors in Houston, to talk with anyone who knew me from 1957 to the present 1990's. The military-gov't was determine to learn my whole life history. My dad an I vacationed in Galveston, Texas.

From 10.01.95 to 3.01.96 I moved to Nashville, to try my hand in country music. I formed an eight member band in Oklahoma City in 1995, and made demo tapes. From 3.01.96 to 1.01.97 I moved to Lake Worth, Texas to live with my Texas girlfriend, Linda Patterson. In 1.17.97, I enrolled in college at Val. State, Gallatin, TN, majoring in Corp. Law. From 1.17.90, to 6.01.97, in Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, and Nashville, the military - govt. coached everyone what to say and do around me, at health clubs, girls I dated, jobs I worked at, school, everywhere. I couldn't have any friends, life had no meaning anymore, no fun, no excitement, no adventure nothing promising, very void. In 1990, I joined a Baptist church in Fort Worth, the govt-military coached the congregation to ostracize me, entire families would get up and move if I sat on the same pew. I left that church after a few months, realizing I was not welcomed. I never went to another church again. I visited my sister Janet in Sept. 1995, she encouraged me to get into her kid-swimming pool with her six and four year old daughter, Janet gave me a pair of swim shorts to wear.

While sitting in the one foot of water with Janets two daughters, playing around, Janets six year old daughter put her hand on my penis, and said Uncle Paul, "What's that". I was shocked, I immediately grabbed her hand and forcefully shoved her hand away, I was speechless, bewildered. Janets six year old daughter grabbed my penis again, a second time, and again, I grabbed her hand with more force, put my finger in her face, and sternly told her don't you ever do that again. I then noticed some curtains moving by the window, above the pool in Janets back yard, I looked up and seen Janet watching the whole situation. The military-gov't coached Janet, and her six year old daughter to grab my penis, then to file charges on me. From 1990 to 1997, the gov't-military tried to cause me to become, AN accept the homosexual life style. There is not a gay bone in my body. From 1990 to 1993, the military-gov't had males make phony friendships with me in Fort Worth, to encourage me to steal cases with them, Rob banks, pass forged instruments, use drugs, date RAPE girls, burglarize MANSIONS, abuse Alcohol. I adamantly said NO, NO, NO.

From 1985 to the current, the military-gov't has used scientific technology on my ears, mind and body. (See enclosed documents). I don't have the knowledge, or skills how to articulate precisely how scientific Technology works, but, in a book, called: "The Warriors Edge" explains how the human body is radiated, the magnetic field is used. The military-gov't has the technology that make my ears ring at all levels, the military-gov't causes my ears to ring at painful, excruciating high pitched levels for days at a time. (They) have tortured my brain since 1985, taking my mind from extreme to extreme. Basically since 1985 (they) have kept my mind in torment, aggravating. The enclosed Two (2) documents state how the residence of Eugene, Oregon in the 1970's also complained about scientific Technology being used to cause them, high ANXIETY, IRRITABILITY, loss of sleep, depression, odd atmospheric sensation causing headaches. I have not slept normal SINCE 1984. Prior to 1985, my ears never once RANG, I slept like a baby every night, my mind was debonair, blissful. I realize scientific technology is a subject only a few military scientist can explain, and that when I bring up the subject, and carry the miserable symptoms, it may cause me to sound deranged, INSANE. This is a matter that boils down to, am I fabricating this scientific technology facts, am I telling a big lie, or am I telling the facts and the truth of what I know, and what I've experienced since 1985. just as the residence of Eugene, Oregon, and people everywhere who have no knowledge what may be happening to them. The military-govt told me that in 1992, while (then) President George Bush was visiting in Japan, at a dinner reception, became unconscious, the military-govt told me they caused the President to become unconscious, to illustrate their power to me.

(They) said they caused President Bush (2001) to become unconscious in the White House while eating a pretzel. (They) said they cause John F. Kennedy, Jr. to become unconscious while flying his airplane, which he crashed and died. (They) said they caused President Clinton's knee to dislocate while vacationing in Florida IN (1996?). (They) caused my knee to dislocate in 1990. (They) caused me to become unconscious while driving in 1990. The enclosed documents state the facts, this technology - this scientific technology exist... America has a group of evil scientist working

MR. BAKER SAID,

—HOW DID THE MILITARY-GOV'T TRY TO CAUSE YOU TO BECOME GAY. I SAID, FROM 1990 TO 1992,
THE MILITARY-GOV'T WOULD ONLY PERMIT GIRLS TO DATE ME AN AVERAGE OF FOUR WEEKS
EACH, THIS WAS IN FORT WORTH, TEXAS. IN OKLAHOMA CITY, (BETHANY) IN 1994 THE MILITARY-
GOVT COACHED ALL THE GIRLS AT A DANCE HALL CLUB SOI FREQUENT NOT TO DANCE WITH ME, AS EXPECTED, NATURALLY, I GAVE UP DATING GIRLS, REALIZING I COULD NEVER AGAIN HAVE A NORMAL, LOVING RELATIONSHIP WITH A GIRL.
FROM 1990 TO 1991, THE MILITARY-GOV'T HAD SEVERAL GAY MEN TRY TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF
MY KIND, GENTLE PERSONALITY, AN EXPLOIT ME SEXUALLY. IF I WERE GAY, ID BE

honestly open. I've lived my life totally overtly, as a book. When you have nothing to hide, you hide nothing. I have absolutely NO skeletons in the closet. I do have a lot I may be embarrassed about, but I do not run if someone aired my dirty laundry in the public. I've heard Oprah Winfrey disclose publicly how she was sexually raped by her uncle, I heard Natalie Cole (Singer) explain that she prostituted her self to buy drugs, I'm sure these stories are embarrassing to make public, however, I am able to draw self-strength from people coming forward publicly and share with us, that there life was not picture perfect, flawless. My life too is not picture perfect. I have flaws, such as a robbery, I'm mortified, I hoped society would know the truth how I came to rob with Mr. Stewart Cook, what lead up to me going with Mr. Cook. Then be forgiving, AN accept me as an all american boy. I am exclusively a heterosexual, I love girls. I rejected all the military-govts gay sexual advances. There were Two (2) girls who came into my life, one, in 1992 in Fort Worth, Texas. I dated her for about nine (9) months, but not steady. She is a millionaire her father was a Texas Rancher, he left her a million dollars in his will. She asked me to marry her. I respectfully declined, because I did not love her. No was she able to love me, as I need love from a woman. Secondly, in 1994 in Oklahoma City (Bethany) I met Dena, worth five hundred thousand, I lived with Dena. For a few months, Dena proposed to me, again, I respectfully declined. I liked Dena only sexually. During Trial Three, Dr. Pam Auble said its insane to think two wealthy girls proposed to me. I have several pictures of the two relationships in the police property room, Nashville. I dare not share with Dr. Pam Auble, a date once brought me some flowers; as I became educated that its appropriate for guys to receive flowers from girls, I longed for flowers from girls, its a beautiful way to say I love you, I'm thinking of you, or I like you. But, as I shared with you, the military-gov't has taken all my girlfriends. I've trained myself to be a bachelor. When I was arrested for homicide in June 1997, Nashville, I was placed in the Nashville Metro Justice Center, an inmate charged with pedophilia was placed next to me. The inmates were in single cells, no two inmates were allowed to be physically around one another. The pedophilic is inmate Phillip Wiser, Phillip Wiser was accused at performing oral sex on me, this was reported to the media. Mr. Phillip Wiser never performed oral sex on me, there was no rational way two inmates could have physical contact. I now have a signed statement from inmate Phillip Wiser, and another inmate who was there at the Justice Center, inmate Larry Howard, stating I was in no wise able to have contact with any inmate. Inmate Phillip Wiser never performed oral sex.

The guards at the Justice Center performed a perfunctory cell search in 1998, took a tooth-pick type chicken bone out of his shirt pocket, then told the media I hid a chicken bone in my light fixture to use as a weapon to escape. If I had hid or placed a chicken bone in the $\frac{1}{8}$ screw hole of the ceiling wall fixture, how would I retrieve the tooth-pick chicken bone. Then the heat factor. From the lights would absorb all the substance from the tooth-pick chicken bone, making it fragile-brITTLE, not even realistically able to be characterized as a weapon, but, as usual, it made headline news... First, Reid has a homosexual affair in jail, then, Reid hides a chicken bone weapon in cell to escape. In 1998 at the Justice Center, I'd go to the roof at 5:00 A.M. for recreation, the roof-officer Sheriff Fletcher, once privately told me: "Reid, these are my truck keys laying on the table, I park my reddish mid-size truck, across the street from the Justice Center, in the garage, as you enter level one, my truck is in the second space to the right (investigate).

During trial one, April 1999, I would be held, in an inmate hold-over room behind Judge Blackburn's courtrooms, the bathroom is right in front of the inmate hold-over room with a guard desk a few feet from the bathroom. I had to visit the restroom during a recess, as I exited the restroom, the two guards who were assigned to transfer me from the hold-over room, to the court room, were on the far side of the desk, there laid a pistol-gon on the desk as I come out of the restroom, the officers melodramatically appeared to be seriously looking at some papers, with these back to me. I realized no officer would leave his gun on a desk, with an inmate charged with seven (7) homicides, that this was some type of a set-up, or escape hint. I orderly exited the restroom, and returned to the inmate hold-over room.

During trial three (3) I was transferred in a van, which was parked in a gated area next to the Justice Center. One night during trial three (3), about 8:00 P.M., Judge Blackburn retired the jury for that evening, I was transferred back to Riverbend, as I climbed into the side of the prison van, it was dark at night, I could not see inside the van, but, as I physically climbed into the van, I realized I was standing on some type of object, I looked down at my feet, and seen a shot gun under my feet, I immediately climbed back out, and told the guard. There is no rational way the guard inadvertently put a shot gun in the van to transport inmates. At Riverbend, I had to be transported to Clarksville for a court hearing, I believe around June 7, 1999 or about after the court hearing in Clarksville, I was returned to Riverbend, while at Riverbend intake area, a guard processed me, then walked me back to Unit Two, the cell block I once housed, during the outdoor walk back to Unit Two, the guard told me a helicopter will land on the ground, I'll (The Guard) put you inside, and the helicopter pilot will take you to freedom, I just snorted. Defense detective Ron Hay visited me at Riverbend around June 24, 1999, and asked me how would I escape from Riverbend, I answered, there is no reason to ask me such a question. There were other people who also spoke to me about escape. Then, at Riverbend, Unit Manager Carl Smith, and, Rae Ann Coughlin denied me the privilege to advance from a C-level, to a B-level, which would provide me more time out of my cell, my phone use, my activities, citing: "I may escape". All the other maximum inmates said I was the first to be denied a B-level with a spotless prison disciplinary record, and nothing, no inmate has ever escaped from unit two, and that all B-level, and A-level inmates are at a chance to escape. During trial three, the prison officials put an inmate next to my cell named Greg Thomson, a black inmate, he yelled at me all night for four days, banging on the wall, etc.

Finally, I had atty. Mike Engle tell Judge Blackburn, I could not sleep at night, and that I was coming to trial totally exhausted, unable to assist in my own defense. Judge Blackburn had the prison officials move me. There is no question sabotage is the only reason the prison officials placed inmate Greg Thomson next to me during a trial, they knew the results, I'd be tried for trial. The guards at Riverbend also flooded my cell with water, destroying all my legal court documents I had laid out in piles on the floor, against the wall, while I was out of my cell for a legal visit with atty. Mike Engle. The guards also sprayed my cell with a fire extinguisher, when inmate Greg Thomson tossed a burning paper sack in front of my cell, I was out of my cell at the time. An it appeared the guards opened my door and sprayed, dust particles were on all my property, I had to wipe down every inch of my cell. Inmates are sick in their cells most of the time, in a dozen times the guards at Riverbend, who pass out the food, skipped my cell, and I went without meals. The military - govt coached the inmates to harass me on the Rec.-yard for a whole month at Riverbend, unit Two. Riverbend guards would do a routine cell search, where they'd search my cell, they'd toss my personal belonging everywhere, an ~~anywhere~~, just like in the movies.

MTR. Baker, MTR. LaVosher, I wish a national media network could go back to Texas, locate guards an inmates to who served time with me from 1985 - 1990, pay them to talk, then the media talk to as many people in Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Nashville, to piece actually together, this nightmare ordeal life has been forced to live since 1985, to the present. Then incorporate the pure hell torture of the scientific technology used to torment my ears every hour since 1985, torment my mind every hour since 1985. And not one decent, full night sleep allowed by the diabolical military scientist who control me, SINCE 1985. Now you wonder why I don't want to live on God's green earth anymore, and why I totally accept the execution.. My life ended in 1985, SINCE 1985, I haven't had a life, for 19-years, its all been a pure living hell nightmare.

I was the unlucky one who got caught between the cross-hairs of the military-gov't scientific technology machine in 1985, and after that, that's all she wrote, my life was snuffed-out at a tender age of twenty-seven. Now, I'm just waiting for the state of Tennessee to take me out of my misery, which I'm begging them. I've maintained a flawless prison disciplinary record, that is, until prison guards at Brushy Mountain, guard Robert Sexton, and guard Jeff Hall bashed my head into a concrete wall while my hands were cuffed behind my back, blood poured out of my head. Then I got wrote-up, a disciplinary case, in July 2002, for self-mutilation. The guard who presided over the disciplinary case, Sgt. Darren Settles, said to me: "Reid, do you know where you at son, this is Klu Klux Klan country, this ain't the cool cow pastures back in your home state Texas, you accusing my Klan brothers Robert Sexton, and Jeff Hall of a bashing your Texas head into a wall can get your ass thrown over that fence. And we boys will unload a pound of lead up your ass for escape over the wall. Now I'll call it as I see it, you banged your own head into a wall, case over.

(See enclosed document). I said nothing because since 1985, that's how my life has went. I could never win at ANYTHING, From 1985 - 1989 at Ellis II, From 1990
To 1993 1/2 in Fort Worth, From 1993 1/2
To 1995 in Oklahoma City, an in Nashville in 1996 and 1997. I've also lost at everything. The military-govt has coached every person who has contact with me, and told everyone I'll receive millions of dollars, so people think, if I have the military-govt on my side, an I'll receive millions of dollars, then that's unfair, I'm at an advantage, and therefore must loose (lose) at everything.
The military-govt has beat me down, mentally wore me out. The psychological trauma is unbearable what we been through since 1985. (They) have made me hate life. (They) have called me a penniless worthless, useless, no good nothing ever since 1990, they have called me pussy, weak coward, and said I'm not a man. (They) have belittled me by telling me I'm uneducated, I have no skills, no decent women would desire me, I'm trash.
MR. Baker, MR. DeVasher, gentleman...

the military-govt has totally convinced me I'm a nothing, pure trash, the military-govt is 100% right, I'm a worthless, useless, no good nothing, (they) have made a firm believer out of me. IN 2000, I directly said to the military-govt you won, you beat me down, enjoy your bragging rights.

Had the military-govt stayed completely out of my life, I had filed a Habeas Corpus in 1987, which would have gotten my Texas conviction over TURNED, period.
The military-govt told me they contro!
all the judges, and that my Habeas Corpus will be denied, and sure enough, it was. But my point, had the military-govt left me totally alone, I would have left Ellis II in 1987, or lets just say even 1990, I would have moved in with my dad, earned my Law degree from the University of Houston by 1997, passed the bar with a high LSAT score (possession is 9/10 of law) and I would have been practicing law in downtown Houston. I would have never moved to Nashville, am I sure would not be in prison. Today, I'm not willing to participate in anything, because I know the end results, I'll be rejected, I'll always lose. Since 1985 I haven't had any friends, no one will get involved with me because everyone knows the military-govt controls me, what kind of life is this. (They) completely destroyed all my self-worth, all my self-values. I am nothing. When I went free from E.H.S. on JAN. 17, 1990, about fifteen of us parolees rode a Greyhound bus from Huntsville, Texas, to Fort Worth, Texas. During the trip, (they) provided an inmate a small bottle of liquor, the inmate offered me a drink from the bottle, I said no. While walking in downtown Fort Worth at 10:00 P.M. on a Wednesday that same night I was paroled, walking to the halfway house, three (3) white guys crossing the street, literally bumped into me to fight, I knew the military-govt set those guys to fight me, I avoided the fight, but I could have whooped all three (3) with one hand tied behind my back. Two blacks to the halfway house, a prostitute propositioned me, I said honey, I want it like every other man, but I'll wait and do it right. As I reached the halfway house a black man in a mile long Cadillac offered to sell me drugs, I said buddy, that's not me. The Liquor after from the parolee, the three white guys who tried to fight me, the prostitute, and the drug pusher, were all set-ups by the military govt, to put me back in PRISON. The magnitude of this wicked military govt operation is staggering, And the TAX-payers are being MILKED-blind. Millions and millions of dollars spent since 1965 , all to experiment on me. MR. Baker, and MR. DeVoshee asked me if thought the military govt is responsible for 9-11, I said absolutely not, that 9-11 is OSAMA BIN LINDS baby, AN evil TERRORIST. MR. Baker and MR. DeVoshee then gave each other a stare into each others eyes, as to represent disappointment in my ANSWER to their question.

MR. Baker asked me, what did you disapprove of during my trials. I said the way COUNSEL represented me in all three (3) trials would be PERSONA NON grata in Europe, AN other democratic nations. I said, LETS START... From the onset, June 1ST, 1999, I went to Shoney manager Mitch Roberts home, to discuss coming back to work.

...as a cook for the summer, I only had one morning class in college. Mitch Roberts and I became a little belligerent after about twenty minutes into our conversation. I left, called him from Nashville, apologized on the phone, he said the Ashland City police were at his house, I spoke to an Ashland City policeman, the policeman asked me to come back and apologize in person. I said absolutely. I went back to Mitch Roberts home, and I was arrested for fighting. According to Mr. Mitch Roberts or the Ashland City Police three days later, I tried to kidnap Mr. Roberts with a gun, handcuffs, billy club, knife; and he (Mitch Roberts sucker punched me to get away.) Now gentleman, please open up your mind and go with me on this one. I was seen by his wife. Two daughters or son and daughter plus. I was video taped at his home. Now be a little analytical, if I actually tried to kidnap Mr. Roberts, I sure had a sloppy plan, first, I left three (3) eye witness, his wife and three or two children, plus, I was on a video tape. Secondly, I had not packed up my

Property at my home, I took no valuable Thirdly, what did I intend to do with him. For a college student with a G.P.A. H.O., a former convict from Texas, knowledgeable concerning the law
I sure had a dumb kidnapping plan, if you can classify it as a plan. Now, if Mr. Roberts truly viewed me with a complete military set of ARSENAL, gun, knife, handcuffs, billy club, and Mitch Roberts thought I was the Nashville serial killer, do you think he'd sucker punch me to get away; If I were the Trained serial Killer, body builder, bench pressing 400 lbs could ANY man sucker punch me, get away while I had a gun, knife, billy club, and handcuffs held on him. Be realistic.
Now, ~~at sometime~~ would I return to his home, with the police there, had I tried to kidnap Mr. Roberts, AN I were Nashville's serial killer, please.
Now, at McDonalds restaurant, I was in college the Friday before the McDonalds killings, and the Monday after the killings.
everyone from college testified I had an all american hair cut, hands down.
Mr. Jose Gonzales, the loan SURVIVOR stated to police, he fought with the Killer, depicting the killer, long hair, mexican decent, thin build, weak. And that MR. Gonzales pulled the killers hair, during a fight, and the killer did not wear gloves. MR. Gonzales did not state he fought with a body builder, strong, benching 400 lbs who could whipped the hell out of him, short all american hair cut. MR. Gonzales had from March to June to change his composite drawing (997). At Capt. 165, the employees stated on Saturday, Feb. 15, 1997, a man, 240 lbs, no mustache, ponytail hair, three day beard came into Capt. 165 to apply for a job. I'm 200 lbs, mustache, no ponytail, can't grow a beard. The afternoon at the filling, MR. Mark Farmer first said to police he saw a black man coming out of Capt. 165, he later said a Mexican man with black slick hair. after I appeared on T.V. in June 1997, MR. Farmer said he saw me, and my eye color, as he concentrated operating a moving vehicle, and from approximately one hundred feet MR. Farmer said he saw my brown eyes, absolutely incredible, if MR. Farmers Testimony is reliable. Witness gave so many contradictory depiction as to what they saw. The final product of the police composite drawing depicted a man, no mustache, ponytail, a far cry from me, with a mustache, trim hair cut. During the preliminary hearing at Capt. D's Restaurant, June 9, 1997, the custodian of financial records from Capt. D's restaurant testified under oath, based on the cash register sales receipts, the Capt. D's had twenty-five hundred dollars in the safe. At my actual trial in April 1999, the custodian of financial records from Capt. D's testified the restaurant was robbed for seventy-one hundred dollars. What a fluctuation from June 9, 1997 at twenty-five hundred dollars, to April 1999 to seventy-one hundred dollars. How convenient for the D.A. to substantiate how I leased a car from Crown Ford March 23, 1997, for fifty-one hundred dollars. The problem, or one problem with that story is that on Jan 31, 1997, I had the revenue to lease a car from Miracle Ford, Galteton, TENN., but, Miracle Ford would not lease me a car on Jan. 31, 1997, with ^{the} application I submitted.

The metro police detectives stated on the I'm at a Texaco market-store according to my gas receipt at 9:53 P.M., I then the restaurant, kicking two girls in plain

When one of the girls brother arrives to pick-up his sister. At the Texaco market, less than two blocks from my Clarksville girlfriends house, exactly where I should be, if I'm in Clarksville, the Baskin-Robbins would be completely out of my way. Then, according to Police, I kidnap the girls at 10:14 P.M., and drive them to Dual-Bar Cave. The D.A. in Clarksville puts two (2) prominent, loving mothers on the witness stand during my trial, who testify they 100%^{ly}, positively, saw me at Dun-Bar Cave on April 19th, OR, April 16th, 1997, about eight days prior to the Bastian-Robbins, Robbery-Kidnapping, to establish to the jury, I am well-familiar with Dun-Bar Cave. The two (2) prominent, loving mothers testify they are certain they absolutely saw me at Dun-Bar Cave on April 16, 1997, at 9:30 A.M., and the other mother, second mother saw me at 11:00 A.M., playing my guitar there. Everything looks and sounds totally convincing, 100% believable. I do play guitar, the two (2) D.I.Y. witness are beautiful, loving mothers, excellent citizens in society. Until, my two (2) college professor take the witness stand, and show the court and jury, Not also did the two college professors meet me present in there class room, on April 16, 1997 at 9:00 A.M., and 11:00 A.M., but showed the court and jury, a photo copy of two (2) test I took on April 16, 1997 at 9:00 A.M. and 11:00 A.M. IN their classrooms, earning an A on both test. Seems like I must've been doing some home work...studing the night before the test to earn all A's in college. Witness testified the last person they saw at Baskin-Robbins the night of the robbery, was a tall, blonde hair man, with shoulder length hair, old dirty clothes on, inside Baskin-Robbins around 10:00 P.M. Because the govt-military staged the stabbing at the black inmate at Ellis II Prison in 1988, I told my public defender atty, Mike Jones, I don't believe Two girls were robbed at Baskin-Robbins in plain view, kidnapped the girls, drove them to Lun-Bar Cane, and severed their heads off. Not one trace of those girls were ever found in my car, through the police took apart my car for an astronomical thirteen hours, with a fine tooth comb, plus, cut off the gas peddle, brake peddle, removed the door handles, all the seat covers, and most of the side paneling inside the car, and truck, yet found zero. Had I killed the people at Capt. Lt. McDonalds, Baskin-Robbins, and because shoe prints were found at all three crime scenes, where the killers walked in the victims blood, I would have transported the victims blood from the

Fifty dollars, to maybe, nine-hundred originally had the coins in a five gallon bottle, as seen in my pictures in Fort Worth in 1990 and 1991, Seven years prior to the robberies, nevertheless, when I traveled from Oklahoma City to Nashville, the bottle cracked, so I poured out all the coins, placed Pennies with Pennies, Nickles with Nickles, dimes with dimes, and quarters with quarters with the intent to count the change, to obtain an idea, how much daily pocket change I've saved since 1990, as the pictures vividly show in my photos in 1990. The task of counting was to big, so I put the change in one gallon jugs & apple-cedar bottles, about four (4) bottles, I poured the dimes with dimes, nickles with nickles, pennies with pennies, and quarters with quarters, in denominational order, exactly as the police openly, plain view, saw them in my house. DANNY Tackett said he helped me move my property into a mini storage in March 1996 when I moved back to Texas to live with my Texas girl-friend Linda Patton, from 3.96 to 1.02.47, moved from Nashville to Lake Worth, Texas. DANNY Tackett said - Testified he did not see ANY coins, and MR. Tackett told the truth. I did not let MR. Tackett see the coins because MR. Tackett is a thief, MR. Tackett burglarizes homes, coupled with uses drugs, I feared MR. Tackett would burglarize my mini storage while I was in Texas. If he knew money-coins were the spoil. My Texas Landlord, MRS. Meadlin, told defense

- not one, that I stole any city farming

- in the appeal, I threw my Oklahoma
- City girl friend's Cat across the room,
- in 1994, and that I tried to cover
- her mouth with a pillow, those are
- half-truths. My Oklahoma City girl friend,
- Dena IR64, had a four year old you have sounding like I threw a two, my Texas girlfriend Linda Patten testified on the witness stand, I bought a rabbit, and three (3) chickens in 1996, while I lived with her from 3.96 to 1.02.47, that^y built a rabbit cage, and^[l] a chicken cage, that^y housed

MR. DeVasher, I tried to put a pillow

Dena Irby, yes, I did try, but I never actually succeeded. I told ~~her~~ Dena Irby, I was moving out of her home, where I lived with her for three (3) months, Dena cried like a loud baby, I was afraid, Dena's crying would wake her four (4) year old daughter up, I did not want Dena's four (4) year old daughter to see, that I made her mother cry, I paused, grabbed a throw pillow, but Dena clearly said, I only tried to cover her mouth, but did not succeed. MR. DeVasher, I bench press

HCG 16.5., as seen in my Photos in the Nashville Police Property room, I could have covered Dena's mouth if I wanted to, but I'm INNOCOUS around girls. My Texas girlfriend, Linda Patten testified at Trial Two in 1999, When asked by atty. Mike Engle, did Paul (Paul) ever hit you between 3.96 and 1.02.97 when he lived with you, MRS. PATTEN said NO. MR. DeYasher COMMON SENSE will tell you, Dena Kirby is getting REVENGE against me, FOR not marrying her, and moving out of her home. No decent, Jesus-Filled girl will come forward to personally attack me when I'm down, charged with SEVEN (7) homicides. Rev. Kend Joe Single met and spoke with my sisters Janet and Linda, in Texas 1996. Janet and Linda only lived with me, when I lived with my mother, for a short time. Janet and Linda told Rev. Joe Single, that my mother was austere to them, that would be true, for about a year. Janet did not tell Rev. Joe Single, that Janet once worked for our mother in my mother's five-star restaurant, that my mother provided Janet beautiful, fashion clothes, that - our mother bought Janet a perfect used car, that our mother made sure all her children dressed perfect, had the best of everything, so my mother could show off her children to the opulents who dined at her Five star restaurant, and not be embarrassed. So what if my mother was tough on my sisters Janet and Linda, at least my mother ~~caused~~ cared enough to correct them, educate them, ~~prayed~~ for them. Janet did confess to district atty. Tom Thurman during trial one (1), in April 1999, that Janet got hooked on drugs, and my mother was willing to liquidate her home, to pay for Janet to attend some special hospital clinic in Colorado, at the tune of Twenty-five grand a month, to help Janet get off drugs. Rev. Joe Singel testified during a court hearing in Judge Blackburns court, that he spoke with Linda and Janet about our childhood, and that ^{my} depiction of our childhood did not match Janets, and Lindas. Judge Blackburn believed Rev. Joe Singels account of my childhood, was inaccurate, and Judge Blackburn said in open court, I will tell lies. My sister Janet was

- asked, if I sexually exploit any family member, by D. A. Tom Thurman during trial time, 1999, April, Janet pondered, and said I tried to have sex with her (Janet).
Janet retracted that awful lie to me on the phone at Riverbend in June 1999, stating she was coached to say I sexually exploited her. Janet testified my mother was stringent, I agree, but she was also nice.
My sister Linda stated to Rev. Joe Sujer, my mother was rigorous, I too agree.
My mother was volatile, married three
(3) times, physically beat-up all three (3) of her husbands, whipped the hell out of her five children. Janet testified I tried to have sex with my mother, and that is the reason I left home at sixteen.

my mother made a conscious effort to persuade me to move back home IN 1974. I did move back home once IN the mid 1970's, for a few weeks. My mother also rented me an apartment IN the mid 1970's. I stand by the fact my mother was relatively good to me, and I would have never tried to have sex with my mom. I did not have the characteristics the personality, the courage, or the desire. Oedipus Complex is not existing in a metamorphosis form in my heart. Distict atty. Tom Thurman said he cannot account for one (1) pair of my TENNIS shoes. The pair Jim wearing IN 1996, at Linda Pattens house in Late Worth, Texas. I explained to atty. Mike Engle that, that particular pair of shoes Jim snatched, IN 1996, at Linda Pattens home were old Reebok TENNIS shoes. In that particular photo, Jim holding a cricket. I also stated to atty. Mike Engle, those Reebok TENNIS shoes were only used to mow grass, and I left those Reebok TENNIS shoes in Linda Pattens garage when I left her house IN 1.02.97. I asked atty. Mike Engle to have Linda Patten testify to this fact, and to have that May all the parties request to the court clerk, Twentieth Judicial District, to review the actual, hand-written letters I drafted to the clerk, dated: 2.11.03, 2.18.03, 2.27.03, 2.28.03, and 4.14.03. Thank you so kindly.

After four (4) years of serious, meticulous, consideration, I elect to discontinue my post-conviction appeal in the Captain L's case No. 97-C-1834. I accept the guilty verdict in the Capt. L's case, as well as the punishment imposed, death by lethal injection.

Additional material MR. David Gutter, M.R. Jeff DeKoster am I conversed about on 3.18.03.

Mr. Gutter asked me if I've heard from Mr. Stewart Cook since I've been incarcerated in June 1997; I said yes. Mr. Cook informed me of his intent to attempt to defraud police authorities, as well as the judiciary system, in order to embezzle revenue, by writing a book, or selling his story. Mr. Cook has wrote me, sent me Christmas cards, pictures of himself and family. I write back to Mr. Cook and encouraged him not to discredit the judiciary system, explaining there are ramifications if your defrauding scheme is exposed. Mr. Gutter inquired how did my drivers license birthday change from 1957 to 1967. I explicitly stated, in 1993, I surrendered my Texas drivers license to the clerk at the Oklahoma drivers department, paid ten dollars, showed proof of my Oklahoma City (Bethany) established residence, am I was issued an Oklahoma drivers license. Weeks later, I

I affidavit that Reid, ordering seven fast-food killings, which were similar in the bowling alley denied Soffar's Fifth Amendment rights by questioning him after he had received a lawyer, he was in custody, either offense. ■

Appeals court to rehear man's case

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals will rehear the case of a man whose capital murder conviction in a triple killing was reversed last year. One man has since claimed the slayings were committed by Paul Dennis Reid, convicted of seven murders in Tennessee.

In December, a court panel voted 2-1 to send the case of Max Alexander Soffar back to district court. The state filed for a rehearing before the entire court, and it was granted Thursday.

The date for oral arguments before the 5th Circuit's 14 judges has not been set.

Soffar confessed to killing three people, including two teen-agers, during a July 13, 1980, robbery of a Houston bowling alley. Alone triggerman in Clarksville, Tenn., he swore in an affidavit he had been convicted of mail fraud while employed at a food store in Clarksville. Yet he had invoked the fast style to the fast judges in December, arguing that the state's Amendment 1 violated his right to a trial by jury while he was serving a life sentence.

The court also requested an answer from the state regarding an argument that the state's claim that he was a drug addict and confessed to the killings was based on faulty evidence.

In November, a Houston man

Mr. Stewart Cook

Mr. Stewart Cook

I inadvertently discovered, the clerk at the Oklahoma driving department, had inputted the wrong numerical character from her keyboard into the mainframe computer when I called to find out the method to resolve these amiss. I was told I would have to pay for a new drivers license; I quietly said to myself "fools law", as I adamantly refuse to pay for the Oklahoma driving clerks error.

When I enrolled at Vol. State College in Tennessee in 1997, four (4) years after the Oklahoma driving clerks mistake, the college explained I had to present two forms of identification, since I had surrendered my Oklahoma drivers license, to the Tennessee driving department. For a Tennessee drivers license, as I was an established resident of Nashville, with a residence, checking acc., post office box, employment, health club membership, and college enrollment, because my Tennessee drivers license birthdate (1967), and my birth certificate (1957), did not coincide, I placed a piece of paper over my birth certificate, typed 1962, made a photocopy, and submitted the doctored birth certificate coupled with my Tennessee drivers license to Vol. State College. All documents and forms were filled-out, such as employment application, Credit card application, college forms, all had to agree with my driver's license birth date, which the Oklahoma drivers department Clerk accidentally recorded my birthdate 1967, opposite to 1957, in 1993. Mr. Baker asked me why I come to Nashville for music. I stated, growing up in Houston my first ten years from 1957 to 1967, I had only heard country music played in my grandmother's home, my father's car, etc., I did not know the various other types of music, by ten, I learned how to play my grandmother's piano. When I moved in with my mother, I experienced pop music, pop rock, and rock-n-roll with my two older siblings from 1967-1977, from 1977 to 1978 I reverted back to country music. From 1979 to 1985 I listened to pop-rock with my wife, then from 1985 to the present I've listened to country music. I'm fascinated with country music. It where my roots began, because I play drums and the guitar, I wanted to try my hand in the country music arena. Nashville is the capital, where the country music arena is located. I come to Nashville for the music. I said to Mr. Baker, I came into this world cold, wet, and hungry, then I come to Nashville, and things got worst. I was indicted six months after I arrived in Jan. 1997, with six homicides. I said, but I'm not surprised, because in June 1990, I passed out, or wrote letters to Texas Gov't Governor ANN Richards, complaining; then in Nov. 1990, I almost lost my life in a mighty suspicion accident. In 1993, I passed out letters in Fort Worth, complaining (again) about the military-gov't using scientific technology on my person, then in April 19, 1995, I was scheduled to appear in the Oklahoma City Federal building at 8:45 A.M. to discuss S.S.T. payments I received in 1983. very very peculiar, because there was nothing to converse about, the case had been dormant for thirteen (13) years, until I overslept the scheduled 8:45 A.M. appointment, then, at 9:01 A.M., the federal building blew-up. In 1996, I wrote the Washington Post newspaper, complaining about the military-gov't using scientific technology on my person, then, in 1997, I'm charged with six counts of homicide. Three (3) restaurants, but not one shred of physical evidence of my person at any one of the three (3) restaurants, the expert forensic scientist said no evidence. I was Physically at any of the three (3) restaurants. I said to Abby Baker and her father, I 1964, I spoke aloud to myself, in the privacy of my cell at Ellis Two, I hope to buy my grandmother's home; that my grandmother gave me a picture of Jesus - when Jesus was twelve; the picture had been in our family since 1920, $2\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$; an if the military-gov't does anything to my dad, I pity them both. Well, of the one thousand homes built in Oak-Forest Houston in 1950, my grandmother's home burned down # in 1994, the only home. my picture of Jesus that my grandmother gave me in 1975, and that she has since 1920, I got destroyed. Then my dad who was as healthy as a bull in 1995, died in 1997. I can't prove anything. I'll never be in a position to prove any criminal activities against the mil. Foray-gov't, none of us will. The military-gov't told me that I'll never live a normal life, never amount to a hill of beans, and never make it in Nashville music. I've given up on life. Janet (Sister) said I lived with a man who raped me, but offered no date, year, namely to substantiate her fallacious allegation. No human being has ever sexually violated me. Janet revealed about her hardship life with our mother in 1967, Janet's minor premise was that my own mother was stringent, Janet spoke with veracity. However, no one questioned Janet about her life with our mother. From 1971 - 1974, Janet had her own bedroom, a swimming pool outside her brick home bedroom window, her own T.V., Stereo, phone jack in her bedroom, a fashionable wardrobe, a superb used car, weekly cash allowance, worked occasionally at our mother's fine star restaurant, ate all the delectables, palatable, meats I prepared for her with all the splendid immersion which I earned from a fresh baby beet juice. Janet's testimony on the witness stand in my subjective opinion was (is) prima facie case. MR. Baker asked me a second time, to explain concisely how I came to marry my wife. I said, by the way she dressed at work, she dressed very professional, very fashionable, but not sexually revealing. She was twice as intelligent then I was at that time. She was very lady like, very mature, very Jackie Kennedy.

Influence: The Art and Science of Influence Technology

(We influence others continually. Most people do so unconsciously, in an uncontrolled way. Too many haven't the vaguest idea of the outcome they desire or how to secure assistance in attaining their goals.) Power lies in consciously influencing others.

To begin on the path of influence, you must envision where you wish to go or what you need to accomplish. You then develop a plan, sketch a rational road map for its execution, and see it through to fruition.

Most of us are aware that we're subjected to the art of influence every day. Whether by the news media, Madison Avenue, domestic politicians, or international propagandists, the effects of these influences are visible, if not always clear. Hidden agendas, subterfuges, and ploys are part of the art. Influence technology is a serious and potentially deadly game.

The Soviets, past masters of propaganda and disinformation, have been researching methods of influencing human behavior for over sixty years. They have extensively explored an influence technology we call controlled offensive behavior, defined as "research on human vulnerability as it applies to methods of influencing or altering human behavior."¹

* A declassified Defense intelligence Agency (DIA) report, Controlled Offensive Behavior—USSR that evaluated Soviet research in this area was "intended as an aid in the development of countermeasures for the protection of U.S. or allied personnel."² Some of the revolutionary techniques studied by the Soviets to influence human behavior include: biochemicals, sound, light, color, odors, sensory deprivation, sleep, electronic and magnetic fields, hypnosis, autosuggestion, and paranormal phenomena (psychokinesis, extrasensory perception, astral projection, dream state, clairvoyance, and precognition).³

DIA estimates of the strategic threat posed by Soviet psi research postulate that sooner or later they will be able to:

"a. Know the contents of top secret U.S. documents, the movements of our troops and ships and the location and nature of our military installations.

THE WARRIOR'S EDGE

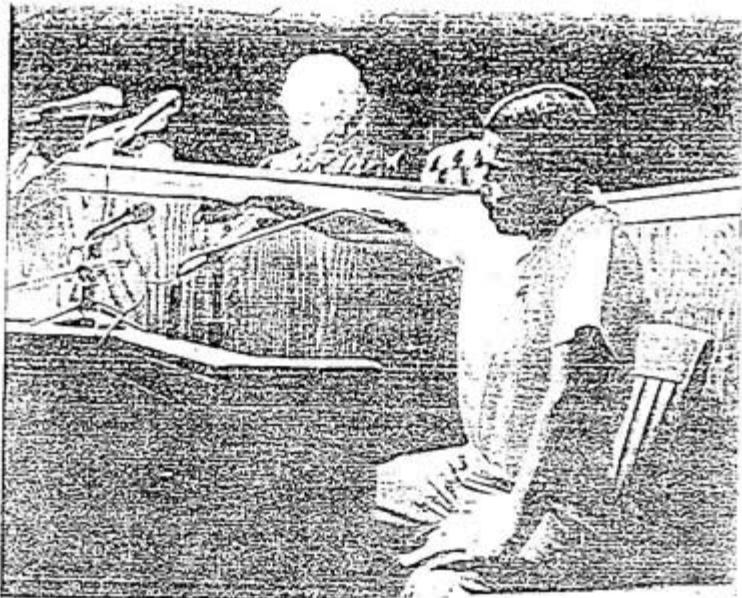

- b) Mold the thoughts of key U.S. military and civilian leaders, at a distance.
- c) Cause the instant death of any U.S. official, at a distance.
- d) Disable, at a distance, U.S. military equipment of all types including spacecraft.⁴

* This gives us a disturbing view of the future, even in view of perestroika, glasnost, and Soviet internal problems. We can only hope that the Soviets offer to share this research with us in a spirit of new openness.

An unclassified 1976 study commissioned by CIA confirms that "the Soviets are investigating the psychophysiology of multimodel, programmed stimulation as a method to entrain physiological rhythms and produce changes in states of consciousness."⁵

* Some high-end influence technologies may already have been employed against us. According to Robert C. Beck, director of the Bio-Medical Research Associates of Los Angeles, the Soviets have been utilizing extreme low frequency (ELF) radio waves (frequencies under 3 kilohertz [KHz] are considered ELF; ELF frequencies under 20 Hertz [Hz] are below the range of human hearing and are termed infrasound) modulated at pulse repetition rates of five to fifteen Hz at amplitudes of up to 40 megawatts. Although the source of these signals is believed to be an Over-the-Horizon RADAR (OTHR), the RADAR in question may have a dual purpose. According to Dr. Beck, "These frequencies fall precisely within the psychoactive range of neuronal synchronization or brainwave entrainment, where subjects experience states from increased anxiety to extreme disorientation and even unconsciousness."⁶

* The type of disorientation associated with these signals was reported in the U.S. as far back as the mid-1970s, when West Coast residents, notably from Eugene, Oregon, "complained about odd atmospheric sensations causing headaches, dry throats, depression, high anxiety, irritability and loss of sleep."⁷ Extremely specialized equipment is required to measure and confirm the presence of such signals. If potentially detrimental

"differences" between Reid's features and a composite sketch of the gunman police produced based on Gonzalez's description just days after the murders.

"Yes, but there are not that many (differences)," Gonzalez told Eagle, noting that Reid's hair and mustache were longer on the night of the murders.

Gonzalez also picked Reid from a photographic lineup, police said.

"He will never be forgotten," Gonzalez added of Reid.

Fifteen years have passed since the day he walked into the bloodiest, most vicious crime scene in his long career.

And still A.H. Corbett can't put it out of his mind.

The victim was a young Vietnamese college student, 21-year-old Cao T. Nguyen, who was working at a convenience store, savagely ~~of his~~ ⁱⁿ relishing America, recalls Corbett, a Pasadena, Texas, police captain.

"The victim was stabbed repeatedly ... nearly decapitated."

"Suffice it to say he also experienced further rather brutal and unique wounds

Once he was released from prison in 1988, Cook says, he worked as a licensed electrician and led a crime-free life, except for an arrest for driving under the influence and two public intoxifications.

While he says he hasn't seen his old childhood friend since they were sentenced to prison in 1984, Cook says that since learning of Reid's arrest, memories "come flashing back."

"I've seen Paul whip four people at once. He's always been very strong ... crazy strong. Paul is a fiend about clearing and grooming.

Cook says he knew Reid's wife, from whom he is now divorced.

which I clearly can't expound on at this time," Corbett told the Nashville Banner in a telephone interview Thursday.

"It was absolutely the most vicious attack I'd ever seen."

At the time, Corbett was a detective sergeant. Since then he's been promoted to captain over the investigative division.

But that one March 1982 case has never been far from his mind.

There have been suspects. One was even arrested but later cleared.

Since learning of Paul Dennis Reid's arrest in Nashville, Corbett is optimistic that he may one day be able to mark the "X" off his list.

"I'm certainly hopeful that we might have the opportunity to solve this case. But I want to solve it correctly. We don't want to just conveniently pin it on somebody. We want to be sure we're right. We will fully explore whether or not Reid could be involved in this," Corbett says.

In one of several telephone interviews, Stewart Cook says he has "seen Paul Dennis Reid use his gun before. I've seen him shoot someone before."

But "I don't want to say anything that will incriminate me," Cook adds, noting that "there's no statute of limitations on murder."

Reid is currently at a Texas jail awaiting a hearing for allegedly failing to notify his probation officer of an address change. He's willing to elaborate on the murderer allegedly known to Cook, if they'll cut me a deal," Cook says.

I have quite a few stories I could tell. ... individuals that would never up some cases for them but I'm not going to elaborate until I get some help getting out of here," he says.

At least one Texas lawman is wary of Cook's offer.

Pasadena Police Capt. A.H. Corbett, who is investigating Reid in the savage slaying of a young college student who was nearly decapitated during a robbery at a convenience store in 1984, spoke with Cook in his cell this week.

"We can't put a lot of stock in what he's saying. The information was not very compelling or convincing," Corbett told the Nashville Banner in a telephone interview.

"He doesn't seem to have any specific information to link him to the U-Totem deal (the murder of the student)," Corbett says.

"Cook is more interested in cutting a deal," Corbett notes.

Cook readily admits that a "deal" is exactly what he wants.

"I've been locked up here since February waiting for a hearing. All it would take is a few phone calls. In lieu of me wanting to help the public, you'd think someone would make the effort," Cook says.

"I do want out of here. That's the truth, but I could also help clear up some crimes here in Texas," says Cook.

Police in Texas are skeptical of a felon's claim there that he saw Paul Dennis Reid commit a murder in that state.

The seven fast food workers Reid is accused of murdering in Tennessee weren't his first victims, says Stewart Cook, Reid's former partner in crime.

Cook, 38, is currently at a Texas jail awaiting a hearing for allegedly failing to notify his probation officer of an address change.

He's willing to elaborate on the murderer allegedly known to Cook, if they'll cut me a deal," Cook says.

Turner's letter

To the Editor:

Much has been said over the past week about the Metropolitan Police Department's investigation into the tragic murders at Captain D's and McDonald's. Some have chosen to second-guess or Monday-morning-quarterback the investigation either with inaccurate information or without all the facts. I would like to take this opportunity to briefly outline the investigation and set the record straight. At the outset, I must say that I will not be able to discuss certain matters for fear of jeopardizing the prosecution of Paul Reid.

Steve Hampton and Sarah Jackson were tragically murdered Feb. 16 inside the Captain D's on Lebanon Road. Murder squad detectives were soon to develop information about a tall, suspicious man who was seen at Captain D's late Feb. 15. The suspicious man was wearing a Shoney's apron. Witnesses assisted in the development of a composite sketch of the individual.

Detectives went to Shoney's restaurants throughout the area asking about the man the witnesses had seen. Detectives also were furnished several hundred names of Shoney's employees.

During a conversation with the manager of the Donelson Pike Shoney's, detectives inquired whether any of the employees there matched the description given by witnesses at Captain D's. Two names were given. One of them was that of Paul Reid; however, the manager vouched for Reid and said that although Reid was tall, the other employee better matched the description. It was pointed out by the manager that Reid had short hair and a mustache. The original description from the witnesses at Captain D's included long hair and no mustache (we now believe it entirely possible that Reid wore a wig when he was seen at Captain D's).

Nevertheless, Reid's name was run through the National Crime Information Center computer. Because Reid had falsified his birth certificate, his Tennessee driver license and his Texas driver license, information on Reid's prior crimes in Texas was not uncovered. Reid was one of hundreds of persons checked out during the course of the investigation. Reid was terminated from Shoney's on Feb. 27, not Feb. 15 as has been previously reported in the media.

On Feb. 17, certain items belonging to Steve Hampton were discovered along Ellington Parkway. Those items were processed for fingerprints by our Identification Division. A partial fingerprint potentially belonging to the killer was recovered on Hampton's movie rental card. That partial print was sent to nine states, including Texas, with hope that a fingerprint computer in one of those states would provide a suspect name. The computer search was unsuccessful, in all likelihood because the print was only a partial one. Human analysis of that print last week indicated that it obviously matched one of Paul Reid's fingers.

As regards questions about calls to Crime Stoppers, after a thorough search, this department has not located any material indicating that anyone called in a tip specifically mentioning Paul Reid by name. Such calls would have led Crime Stoppers personnel to assign code numbers to the callers. Persons who indicate they called Crime Stoppers about Reid have been unable to give any code numbers to the police department. The Crime Stoppers number is answered electronically on weekends and during nighttime hours. The recording gives a caller other telephone numbers if the call is an emergency, but at no time is any telephone line at CrimeStoppers recorded. Callers to CrimeStoppers have had situations in which the recorded messages were subpoenaed to court, which could result in the caller's voice being identified. I cannot say unequivocally that no one called the police department about Paul Reid; I can say that we have no record of any such call.

Following the McDonald's murders on March 23, the police department established special hot line numbers on March 27 for persons with information on the cases. A sizable reward was offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the murders. Every call to the special hot line numbers was logged and entered into a computer data base. A review of the data base indicates that although more than 1,000 calls were received, none of the callers specifically named Paul Reid.

Besides the two lead investigators assigned to the Captain D's and McDonald's cases, numerous other officers have worked day and night for days at a time in an effort to apprehend the killer or killers. These officers sacrificed their personal lives and their families for several weeks. They worked 16- and 18-hour days, worked on their days off and on holidays.

No one would have liked to have gotten Paul Reid off the street any quicker than the dedicated professionals who worked on the two cases. Unfortunately, the leads early on went in other directions, except for the mention of Reid's name by the Shoney's manager in mid-February.

The officers assigned to the cases have my full support and backing, and I hope the support and backing of the Nashville community. Their hard work has led to a suspect being charged with five counts of murder, and other charges are likely as the investigation continues.

Sincerely,
Emmett H. Turner,
Chief of Police

ney and was taking basic courses in writing and computer skills, and that he carried at 4.0 grade point average.

Faculty, administrators and students watched with horror Tuesday night when Reid, wearing a Volunteer State sweatshirt, was paraded into Metro Court in front of dozens of television cameras to face five counts of murder in connection with two grisly multiple slayings at area fast food restaurants.

"Mr. Reid certainly has been the subject of conversation here lately. It's been very distressing," said Jeannie Irelan, director of the school's writing center.

"He came here almost daily. He didn't cause any trouble. He was a fairly innocuous person."

"We did work with him quite a lot, and he was always very polite, very receptive, very grateful, almost effectively so."

"He really didn't stand out, except he wrote me a thank-you note at the end of the semester and he signed it, Reverend Paul

Reid." I thought that was unusual because he's not a minister."

The remedial writing courses focused on sharpening language skills, and developing grammar and punctuation, said Irelan, who helped Reid with two essays.

"He wrote one paper on the qualities of a good CEO of a company, and the last paper he'd written was about what attributes the president of the United States has. I suggested to him that the subject was too general,

"It was unusual to see that his papers had no personal reflection or any discussion about his own experience or life. Usually, students at this level tend to focus on themselves."

The only place they can recall where Reid ever played his music other than their home was last year at Onyland, "where he performed for a talent search," Danny recalls.

He tried everything he knew in to try and get his name out there," Danny says, adding that Reid went by the stage name Justin Parks.

While Reid played country music, he liked to listen to jazz.

"It helped mellow him out," he said," Danny notes.

As for movies and television, "Paul would watch whatever we were watching — comedies, scary movies — but he did like Baywatch," says Carrie, recalling that Reid would "elbow" Danny and make some comment like "Look at that," like any other guy would, but he was never disrespectful.

"That's what is so odd about all this. He was with us day and night, and there was never anything about him, other than this normal person. I mean, we spent a lot of time with him."

"I'm not just talking about at work. He was at our home. He slept over, even stayed a few days when he came back from Texas this second time, until he got his place on Orway Place," Carrie says.

On one occasion, she remembers, she picked Reid up at 12:30 one night and drove him down Donelson Pike to South Nashville to his car.

"I was never scared or worried."

"I respected him. He respected me. He showed me he was a good man," Danny says.

'He had no bad habits.'

"Paul told me he'd been incarcerated at one time. But he was wanting to better himself," Danny recalls. "He worked out at the gym. He was pretty jocky [sic] but no bad habits. Didn't smoke or do drugs. And all he ever drank was one or maybe two beers."

But after Reid started attending Volunteer State Community College, Danny says, "he wouldn't even drink a beer. I'd call him up and say, 'Why don't you come over and let's watch football and drink a beer or two,' and he'd say, 'No, I can't. I've got to study.' Can't be drinking while I'm writing the books."

Reid never had a lot of money to spend, the Tackets say.

"He was tight. Sometimes he wouldn't go out to eat," Danny says.

And when they all did eat out, it was either at the Country Smorgasbord in Donelson or at a McDonald's.

Paul loved McDonald's. For Christmas this past year, he sent us $15 in McDonald's gift certificates in a card. He ate their Happy Meals. He loved the toys," Danny says.

Miss Piggy was his favorite. His girlfriend in Texas gave him one, and he kept it in his car all the time," Carrie says.

As for the new 1997 red Ford Escort that Reid leased in March, Carrie remembers asking him how he bought the car and he told her that "that girlfriend in Fort Worth had given it to him."

"He never talked much about family."

"I don't know why, but they didn't get along too well. His father died recently, and he went back to Texas for the funeral," Danny recalls.

He mentioned once that he was having dinner with his father and some friends were exchanged and that his just got up from the table and left and didn't speak to any of them for a year," Danny recalls.

"Paul was always telling me, 'You know Danny I respect you, you've got a beautiful family,'" Danny says.

Reid was married once but divorced, Danny adds.

"He showed me a picture of her. She was a blonde. He liked women who were fit and tight. They had to be fit," Danny says.

Only saw Reid angry once

Cooking is a stressful job, Danny says. But he never saw his friend lose his temper but once. And that was the time he accidentally threw a plate and got fired.

"Paul was upset about that, but I don't blame him. I was there when it happened, but I didn't see it. Paul told me he was placing a dirty plate on a bus tray when he overreached and it hit a waitress, then she picked up a platter and threw it at him," Danny says.

"Paul got fired, and nothing happened to her. They told him they didn't need someone there with his attitude."

"Paul says, 'How can they fire me? Don't they know that I'm studying law? Why do they want to mess with me?'" Danny recalls.

Reid was preoccupied with the Oklahoma City bombing in which 168 people were killed, Danny says.

"Paul was there during the bombing. He talked about it a lot, especially the kids getting killed. He'd ask me how could a person do something like that," Danny says.

Reid talked to his friend about the last food killings here, too.

"He couldn't understand what kind of person could hurt people like that," Danny says.

The Tackets say they never saw their friend with a gun or any sort of weapon.

I knew he was an outlaw, so I thought he probably wanted to kill people," Danny says.

The Tackets know was wrong last Sunday. Their road. Mitch took them at home and wrote Reid's address and phone number.

"I knew something was wrong but I couldn't figure out just a few minutes later Paul called."

"It was 12:31 a.m. day," Carrie remembers. phone woke her up.

"It was Paul and he was real shook up," she

"Paul told me he was lot of trouble. He said cooking with me so he to Mitch's house in County to try and get me. Paul said things got all band. They had a few he wanted to know if I him park to Ashland could get things resolve police."

But Danny told Reid report to work early morning and therefore help.

The next thing they were seeing their three grand all over television.

"That night too Night Court, my 3-year-old cried, she wanted what was happening to Paul. I don't know what," Carrie says.

Danny says he ~~said~~ friend is guilty.

"I believe he's innocent. Killings. But I've got what happened to him and respect Mitch and credible. In that case Mitch is telling the truth think the police have it on him because of his cord," Danny says.

"Our prayers are we want to visit him but we can't have any visitors for his lawyers," Danny says.

While Danny knows doubtless is mounting a friend, he says Reid deserved "second a

"My heart goes out to his family. I mainly know how I feel. But understand this," Carrie says.

If you're his victim, you see it coming. But to people who are not, he presents a very nice image," Holmes says.

Dorothy Meadlin, vividly recalls seeing a five (5) gallon glass water bottle in the possession and control of Paul D. Reid in 1993 when Mr. Reid rented an apartment house from which I own at 5333 El Campo, Fort Worth, Texas.

The five (5) gallon bottle was approximately one third full of silver coins (nickels, dimes, and quarters).

In Nashville Metro Police found Capt. D. Manager Steve Mpton's movie card and a finger-print on the card in January 1997. The police mailed the finger-print to Texas Lt. Reid's home state where (Reid) was on parole and the finger-prints are registered with the GSR of Texas.
However, Texas did not find any comparison with the finger-print on the movie card and (Reid's) finger-print. Reid was arrested in June 1997 for an argument with his ex-boss, the police quickly fabricated a direct lie and told the media finger-print belong to Reid. The police then (charged) Reid

DESCRIPTION OF PROBLEM. ON 7.26.02 I (Paul Reid) was exiting the REC yard entering A-Pad,廊下, to my cell #Q4 I passed by Cell #10. I passed by Cell #10. I briefly thought about asking Officer Pritchard for some peanut butter, but he(= officer) Mike Chabotte the night before on 7.25.02 to give me some. Officer SEXTAN AN OFFICER REID was at Cell #2 during this time performing housekeeping for the inmate in Cell #2. Officer Sexton, Officer Tandy Reid & I arrived at my cell #4 about the same time. Officer Sexton then stated: "Reid, you stay at cell #10 again, will write you." I could not understand the direct order by stating "OKAY". Then I stated to Officer Sexton in a very firm tone, in my voice; "you don't have to threaten me I follow all the rules well". At that moment, Officer Sexton put his right hand and left hand on my body, and with my hands handcuffed behind my back Officer Sexton pushed me into my cell with all his strength and such force, I briefly flew across my cell floor, onto my bed, and hit my left forehead against the wall. Officer Sexton is taller than I am and weighs about 100 lbs more. Then I heard, after hitting my head against the wall from Officer Sexton pushing him, I then tried to gain control to stand but I could not regain this. I waited to stand up because Officer and laid still on the floor. I then felt like it was floating on water. Moments later Officer Sexton and Officer T. HILL along with several other officers came into my cell and carried me to the nurse station. The Nurse tested me for two checks on my left forehead. A large hand grant on my right side gave me some. Tylenol and examined my ~~right~~ eye for blue vision because Officer Sexton pushed my head into the wall. The Nurse inquired how I feel, I stated my head feel like it's floating on water, and my head hurts. While I laid on the table in the Nurse's station Officer Sexton sat down a few times roughly for

DESCRIPTION OF PROBLEM No reason, I acted most appropriate decent and followed all rules. Officer Sexton then stated for no reason that "Reid is a coward to fight men, he just wants to hurt women". I said nothing, but suspect because I was convicted of 7 homicides, that had I actually been the real killer, that I was in a vulnerable situation since Officer Sexton violated me, pushing my head into the wall, I suspect Officer Sexton was attempting to get me to say something only the killer would know. Officer Sexton and Officer T. Hall stood me up on my feet. I guess because a lot of blood rushed to my head from lying down, and the fact Officer Sexton pushed my head into the wall and caused two cuts. The head band was so unbearable that I did a few times the first five steps of TAD. Officer Sexton then stated: "Now Reid wants to cry about it, he's not a pussy", here a baby". I said nothing and demanded to be left alone. I am NOT a violent, verbally abusive person. But I guess Officer Sexton was trying to see if I was a violent, verbally abusive person by putting me in a most vulnerable situation.

ON 7.29.02 I was seen by the nurse at the nurse station after headache and blur vision in my right eye from Officer Sexton pushing my head into the wall, the nurse cleaned up 2 too aggressive cuts on my left forehead from Officer Sexton pushing my head into the wall on 7.26.02. My attorney made the medical unit at Riverhead in 1999 my private medical records that revealed medical record I had been treated for skull fractures, and concussion since 1973 in Houston hospitals, by Houston doctors, to inform the mid-1 st SF of having serious skull problems. Since my arrival in TDC in April 20, 1999, I have never been treated, nor disrespected anyone I follow all rules, and plan to maintain a good prison record until July 19, my 2003 Execution. ON 7.29.02 the nurse gave me 10 gels for my head pains.
