up in the parking lot of Wendy's on North Thomas? 1 2 Well, I pulled up and I was sitting there thinking А 3 about what I wanted to get to eat, and as I was getting out of the car, I saw a white male coming out the door and a police-4 man was getting ready to go in. I heard the policeman tell 5 him to hold it, and they started struggling. 6 7 Then this other policeman came up and started struggling with them. When he--I saw the other policeman who 8 9 came in on the other side, he got shot and spun away and I saw a gun and I saw a white male shoot the policeman who fell back 10 and drew his revolver and started shooting. I saw the white 11 male running away shooting back. 12 When you saw the first police officer, you indi-13 cated he was shot and then spun away. 14 Yes, sir. А 15 How did he spin away and where did he land? о 16 He landed on the pavement from where he had got А 17 shot. 18 Do you know if that officer who got shot spun away 19 0 was the man who just walked out of here, Mr. Stoddard? 20 А Yes, sir. 21 This other police officer, did you later learn him Q 22 to be Lieutenant Ronald Oliver? 23 Yes, sir, I did. ı.

Oliver going to that Wendy's that night protecting all of us from criminals that come from Fort Worth, Texas, or Columbus, Georgia, perhaps Lieutenant Oliver would be with us here today, or perhaps one other thing. If Lieutenant Oliver had followed one of the police department's routine rules, Phillip Workman might not be sitting over there, because what we have is a felon fleeing his felony.

Police department rules say that if an officer receives that this is a felon fleeing a felony, that officer can shoot to kill. Lieutenant Oliver never pulled his pistol until he was shot and sitting down on the pavement. How do know that?

Harold Davis had pulled up to get something to eat and was getting out of his car and he virtually saw the whole thing. And what did Mr. Davis say in regards to the tussle that he saw take place? Mr. Stoddard gets shot and spins away, Lieutenant Oliver and the defendant.

Was it a thing where they were wrestling over this pistol? No. Was it a thing where the Lieutenant was trying to get the pistol away and there's an accidental discharge? No.

Mr. Davis got out here, he being Workman and me being Lieutenant Oliver, as if Mr. Davis was standing in that chair approximately two feet away with one of the Lieutenant's hands raised up, I believe, in this position (demonstrating), approximately two feet away is what I believe Mr. Davis said and a shot was fired. He coolly and deliberately pulled this trigger and sent the bullet down this barrel and into the body of that man right there.

You heard Doctor Bell indicate the cause of death 5 was a gunshot wound that entered here and exited a little 6 higher up around the back in the rear side. Doctor Bell in-7 dicated that due to the type of wound and the blood being in 8 the brain that the individual would stay alive, I believe, he 9 said four minutes. He would be conscious and able to function. 30 I asked the question, a person with a wound like that, would 11 that person be able to, in your expert opinion, fire off six 12 rounds from a pistol? And he indicated yes. 13

The State submits that what happened is after Work-14 man shot Lieutenant Oliver, Lieutenant Oliver is down, he's 15 pulling his pistol, and if you will recall, Mr. Davis said as 16 the Lieutenant was falling, he was going for his pistol. He's 17 sitting on the ground; he's got this wound through him and he 78 can't shoot as clearly as if he could if he were standing on 19 the firing range, and he shoots this pistol six times. He 20 never hits the defendant. Ferhaps he hit that truck and per-21 haps he didn't. No telling where those shells went, the bullets 22 out of the gun. 23

But the bullets that he fired, these six blank cartridges remained in the gun, whereas in the automatic
