INTRODUCTION

Tennessee Code Annotated section 17-4-301 et seq. charges the Trial Court Vacancy Commission with assisting the Governor and the People of Tennessee in finding and appointing the best qualified candidates for judicial offices in this State. Please consider the Commission's responsibility in answering the questions in this application questionnaire. For example, when a question asks you to "describe" certain things, please provide a description that contains relevant information about the subject of the question and, especially, that contains detailed information that demonstrates that you are qualified for the judicial office you seek. In order to properly evaluate your application, the Commission needs information about the range of your experience, the depth and breadth of your legal knowledge, and your personal traits such as integrity, fairness, and work habits.

This document is available in word processing format from the Administrative Office of the Courts (telephone 800.448.7970 or 615.741.2687; website www.tncourts.gov). The Commission requests that applicants obtain the word processing form and respond directly on the form. Respond in the box provided below each question. (The box will expand as you type in the document.) Review the separate instruction sheet prior to completing this document. Submit by the noon deadline date an original (unbound) completed application (with ink signature) to the Administrative Office of the Courts. In addition, submit a digital copy with electronic or scanned signature via email to debra.hayes@tncourts.gov, or via another digital storage device such as flash drive or CD.

THIS APPLICATION IS OPEN TO PUBLIC INSPECTION AFTER YOU SUBMIT IT.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND AND WORK EXPERIENCE

1. State your present employment.

Rutherford County General Sessions Judge, Part II

2. State the year you were licensed to practice law in Tennessee and give your Tennessee Board of Professional Responsibility number.

I was licensed to practice law in Tennessee in 2000 and my Board of Professional Responsibility number is 0020544

3. List all states in which you have been licensed to practice law and include your bar number or identifying number for each state of admission. Indicate the date of licensure and whether the license is currently active. If not active, explain.

Tennessee is the only state in which I am licensed to practice law.

4. Have you ever been denied admission to, suspended or placed on inactive status by the Bar of any State? If so, explain. (This applies even if the denial was temporary).

No

5. List your professional or business employment/experience since the completion of your legal education. Also include here a description of any occupation, business, or profession other than the practice of law in which you have ever been engaged (excluding military service, which is covered by a separate question).

I completed my legal education in 1998 at the Nashville School of Law

May 1, 1997 - September 1, 2000

Partner - Tidwell Cartee, PC - Nashville, Tennessee

February 2006 - December 2012

Partner - Price & Tidwell - Murfreesboro, Tennessee

January 2013 - August 31, 2014

Associate Attorney - Bulloch, Fly, Hornsby & Evans - Murfreesboro, Tennessee

September 1, 2014 - Present

Rutherford County General Sessions Judge, Part II - Murfreesboro, Tennessee

6. Describe the nature of your present law practice, listing the major areas of law in which you practice and the percentage each constitutes of your total practice.

I am currently a General Sessions Judge in Rutherford County, Tennessee. My dockets consist of approximately 80% criminal cases, 5% civil assets forfeiture, 5% mental health court, 5% suspended license docket, 4% Citation docket, and 1% civil cases.

7. Describe generally your experience (over your entire time as a licensed attorney) in trial courts, appellate courts, administrative bodies, legislative or regulatory bodies, other forums, and/or transactional matters.

During my first through third year of law school (1993-1997) I worked at the Metro Nashville Legal Department in Nashville, Tennessee. While my general duties were as a runner for the department, I would, on occasion, be called upon to do legal research for the staff attorneys. The research included issues involving one or more of the departments within the Metro Nashville Government and was supervised by one of the staff attorneys. The experience I gained was invaluable and touched on a wide array of areas of the law including civil rights violations, contract negotiations and disputes, delinquent property tax enforcement, and issues with legislation before the Metropolitan Counsel.

In May of 1997, at the end of my third year of law school, I was hired by the Honorable Cheryl Blackburn, Criminal Court Judge of Division III, 20th Judicial District, as her law clerk. During my three and one half years with Judge Blackburn my legal experience was solely in the areas of substantive criminal law and criminal procedure.

As Judge Blackburn's law clerk I assisted her in drafting memoranda of law; performing legal research; compiling jury charges; taking notes during motion hearings and trials; and any number of other related judicial tasks. My primary areas included assisting in the drafting of memoranda of law in the areas of post-conviction relief, writs of habeas corpus, and motions to suppress evidence.

The experience of being closely involved in the day-to-day operation of a judicial office was very rewarding. Likewise, the opportunity to watch up-close the process that Judge Blackburn took in deciding important issues, many of which affected lives for years to come, gave me the basis for the approach that I now take everyday in my General Sessions courtroom. This approach affects my preparation, discretion, and interaction with members of the bar and litigants.

On September 1, 2000, I opened a solo law practice in Nashville, The Law Office of Barry Tidwell, in a suite of offices that had a mix of both new and experienced lawyers. In the beginning I took appointed cases in the Davidson County General Sessions Court. I also took guardian ad litem appointments for conservatorship cases out of the Probate Court of the 20th Judicial District. My practice quickly evolved into a general practice where I took cases involving domestic relations, criminal defense, basic estate planning, personal injury, and workers compensation.

In April of 2003 I took on a partner, Eric Cartee, and we opened an office in Nashville under the business name of Tidwell Cartee. We practiced a true partnership where we both focused on criminal defense and personal injury cases. We often assisted each other on the firms cases and all cases were interchangeable among each partner.

In 2003 two events occurred that changed my law practice:

1. I was admitted to the Criminal Justice Act (CJA) panel of lawyers for the Middle District of Tennessee

This panel of lawyers is limited to lawyers who have been chosen due to experience and skill to take appointed criminal cases in federal court. No lawyer but those on the panel of lawyers are permitted to accept appointments in the Middle District of Tennessee. From 2003 until September 1, 2014 I represented fifty-six (56) clients through the criminal justice act panel.

In addition to this number, I represented clients in regards to federal civil rights violations, petitions for habeas corpus relief, and other general civil matters.

2. In 2003 I was hired by a client to defend him in a civil case in which he was accused of surreptitiously stealing DirecTV satellite signals. One client led to another and within a few years I had represented well over one hundred (100) individuals who had either been sued in the Western, Middle, or Eastern District of Tennessee or who had been threatened to be sued by DirecTV.

The volume of these lawsuits required focused organization because at any given time the cases would be in different stages of litigation. The experience I gained in the area of civil litigation for the duration of these cases was invaluable. The issues presented were complex and at one point resulted in my assisting other lawyers from the Eleventh Circuit prepare for oral argument before the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals sitting in Miami, Florida. After a couple of years DirecTV discovered that the cost of prosecuting these cases far outweighed any return and they stopped filing lawsuits.

In April of 2006 I moved my practice to Murfreesboro and formed the firm of Price & Tidwell with my former law partner John Price. Our practice involved the general practice of law, in both state and federal courts, and specifically included the areas of personal injury cases, domestic relation cases, criminal defense matters, and estate planning/probate cases.

In January 2013 I joined the Murfreesboro law firm of Bulloch, Fly, Hornsby & Evans. While at the firm I continued to handle personal injury cases, domestic relation cases, criminal defense matters, and estate planning/probate cases.

In August of 2014 I won a county-wide contested election and on September 1, 2014 took the bench on the Rutherford County General Sessions Court, Part II. This experience has included holding court five (5) days a week. My schedule includes the following: Monday - Violation of Probation and criminal docket; Tuesday - Special set hearings and assist fellow judge with his docket; Wednesday - Suspended License docket and Mental Health Court; Thursday - Criminal Docket; Friday - Tennessee Highway Patrol docket, violation docket, and criminal docket. My time on the bench has given me perspective from the bench on how to run docket, how to properly treat both lawyers and litigants, and how to adjust from the world of private practice to life as a judge.

While in the private practice of law I appeared in every court in the 16th judicial district; the United States District Courts for the Western, Middle, and Eastern Districts of Tennessee; the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals; and the Tennessee Court of Criminal Appeals.

8. Describe any matters of special note involving your practice in trial courts, appellate courts, and administrative bodies.

State v. Eric D. White, CCA No. M2001-02731-CCA-R3-CD - After a jury trial conviction I represented Mr. White on his appeal. The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the conviction based upon insufficiency of the evidence. The case was reversed and dismissed.

State v. Paul Dennis Reid, Davidson County Case Nos. 97-C-1834 and 97-C-1836 - I was a law clerk for Judge Blackburn during the Davidson County death penalty trials of Paul Dennis Reid. Although Judge Blackburn was assisted by a capital case attorney from the Administrative Office of the Courts, I was involved in most discussions concerning rulings in the case and became very well versed in the case law concerning the evidentiary issues that arose during the two capital murder trials.

DirecTV v. Multiple clients - At one point I was the only attorney in Tennessee taking multiple clients in this multi-state litigation involving the surreptitious interception of the satellite signals of DirecTV. The litigation lasted for approximately two years and was virtually the only area of my practice during this time frame except for my federal criminal practice.

State v. Antonio Alexander Rutherford County Case No. F-64676 - I was lead counsel in this death penalty case tried in June of 2010. Mr. Alexander was ultimately convicted and sentenced to Life Without Parole instead of Death.

9. Describe any other legal experience, not stated above, that you would like to bring to the attention of the Commission.

Although stated above, I would like to bring specific attention to my involvement in the Rutherford County Mental Health Court. After being elected in August 2014 I immediately began the process of starting a Mental Health Court in Rutherford County. With the aid of a talented committee, the least of which was myself, we met for approximately a year to discuss the mechanism and procedures that needed to be in place before we could start the court. In February of 2017, after much planning, we opened court for the first time. I now have close to 20 participants who are required to follow the rules and regulations of the court, comply with mental health providers, and, if they can, become employed.

The Mental Health Court has been a success in giving the participants the tools needed to avoid new arrests, to take and remain on mental health medications, and to become productive members of the community. Mental Health Court has become the highlight of my week due to the weekly feedback I receive from each participant regarding their successes, and, when there is a failure, the ways that the individuals now know how to get back to where they need to be.

Without being presumptuous, it would be my desire to keep the Mental Health Court under my jurisdiction should I be appointed to the Circuit Court bench.

Additionally, I have presented, or will present at General Sessions Judges fall conference, the following Continuing Legal Education programs:

Finally, I have in the past been involved in the Christian Legal Clinic in Rutherford County. As a part of this group I would go from time to time to the Salvation Army building, or, later to the Law Office of John Blankenship, to give legal advice to those who otherwise may not be able to afford to seek legal counsel.

10. List and describe all prior occasions on which you have submitted an application for any state or federal judicial position.

I submitted an application in 2012 for the 16th Judicial District Third Circuit Court. I was not selected as one of the three names sent to the Governor. This is the same seat that I am applying for now.

EDUCATION

11. List each college, law school, and other graduate school which you have attended, including dates of attendance, degree awarded, major, any form of recognition or other aspects of your education you believe are relevant, and your reason for leaving each school if no degree was awarded.

ESSAYS/PERSONAL STATEMENTS

28. What are your reasons for seeking this position? (150 words or less)

Since clerking for Judge Cheryl Blackburn in the 20th Judicial District back in the late 1990's I have desired to one day have the honor of sitting as a trial court judge. Judge Blackburn provided a wonderful example of how a judge should sit with grace and dignity, treat everyone fairly, and follow the law in all circumstances. I have tried every day that I have been a sitting judge to follow her example and the example of all of the other trial judges that I have appeared before who have attributes I consider worthy of replication. Judge Todd Campbell of the Middle District of Tennessee, as well as the trial judges of the 16th judicial district are also judges after which I have tried to pattern my judicial demeanor. While I absolutely love sitting on the General Sessions bench, it would be the honor of my professional life to move to Circuit Court.

29. Describe the judgeship you seek (i.e. geographic area, types of cases, number of judges, etc. and explain how your selection would impact the court. (150 words or less)

I am seeking the position of Third Circuit Court Judge for the 16th Judicial District. The 16th Judicial District covers Rutherford and Cannon Counties. The impact would be felt immediately. Due to the untimely death of Hon. M. Keith Siskin the other trial court judges have been dividing and hearing the dockets for Third Circuit in addition to their regular duties. My appointment would allow for the immediate operation of Third Circuit and the alleviation of the extra work the other trial courts have been experiencing. This would also ensure that litigants are heard in a timely manner.

30. Will you uphold the law even if you disagree with the substance of the law (e.g., statute or rule) at issue? Give an example from your experience as a licensed attorney that supports your response to this question. (250 words or less)

Yes, I would uphold the law even if I disagreed with the substance of the law. To some degree I encounter these situations often as a General Sessions Judge. My philosophy is that a Judge's job is to apply the law as it is written by the General Assembly and avoid at all costs making law from the bench.

An example from when I was in private practice was an instance where I received approximately 5000 documents delivered pursuant to a 17(c) subpoena to a co-counsel office in a complex Medicare case. After a review of the documents it became clear that the documents contained email correspondence that could be considered work product of opposing counsel, and thus non-discoverable.

In this particular case it certainly could have been advantageous to my client to read the emails in that they could have provided insight into the strategy and mindset of my opponent. While I would have liked to read the emails, the ethical, legal, and moral answer was to alert opposing counsel and turn the documents over to them. That is exactly what I did.
