K. As provided in Rule 29, Tennessee Rules of Civil Procedure, stipulations extending the time for responding to interrogatories to parties' requests for production and requests for admissions may not be made without approval of the Court, absent consent of the counsel of record.

M. To curtail undue delay, the Court will refuse to rule on any motions for discovery unless moving counsel shall first file with the Court, at the time of filing of the motion, a statement certifying that they have conferred with counsel for the opposing party in a good faith effort to resolve by agreement the issues raised and that counsel has not been able to do so. In determining compensation to an attorney, the Court will consider the amount and character of the services rendered, complexity of the estate, time and trouble involved, character and importance of any litigation, amount of money or value of property involved, professional skill and experience called for, and character and standing of the attorney.

In setting all fees the Court may consider: any extraordinary services, such as sales or mortgages of real or personal property, will contest or other such litigation; lengthy, contested or litigated claims against the estate; tax returns or audits by any federal or state agencies; the managing or selling of the decedent's business; or special services as may be necessary for the personal representative to prosecute, defend or perform.

Next	$80,000	4%
Next	$500,000	2%
Over	$750,000	1%

If there are two or more personal representatives applying for compensation, the Court shall apportion such compensation pursuant to any agreement; otherwise, it shall be according to the services actually rendered by each.

Where the attorney also serves as personal representative only one fee shall be allowed, and the Court in fixing same shall take into consideration all services rendered.

In lieu of the fee of the attorney for an estate being set on a percentage basis, the Court may consider a fee based on an itemized, hourly basis using as a guideline the rate of $75.00 per hour to $150.00 per hour.

No fees or compensation in excess of $1,000.00 to accountants or other professionals, such as appraisers, will be allowed by the Court unless a petition setting forth the facts and requesting approval is filed and approved by the Court.
